ALL SET. Linda Alexander, Tri-State Pottery Festival queen, adjusts a festival hat on the willing head of Tommy Phillips, Merchants Association co-chairman for the fete which will begin Thursday.

★ ★ ★ Varied Program Set Up ★ ★ ★

Fingers were crossed for good weather at the opening of the Tri - State Pottery Festival Thursday — a three - day program of pottery tours, ceramic displays, amusement rides, art show, nightly entertainment, booths and exhibits.

Mayor George E. Willshaw and Linda Alexander, queen of the festival, are scheduled to officially open the event tomorrow morning at 10 at the headquarters in the former Moore Furniture Co. on E. 5th St.

"Senior Citizens Day" will be observed, with groups scheduled to arrive by buses and cars from various points to visit the district's potteries, tour the "mall" areas of 5th St. and Washington St. and to take part in the evening entertainment.

"Potters Day" is planned for Friday and "Family Day" Saturday, according to H. Jud English, general chairman.

Senior Citizen groups are expected from Struthers, Steubenville, Rochester, Pa., Lisbon and elsewhere throughout the region, William Osborn of the East Liverpool organization said.

U.S. Links Viet Peace, Geneva Pact

Does Not Object To Unification, Harriman Asserts

BULLETIN

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam accused the United States today of a lack of good faith in the Paris peace talks. Striking back, the U. S. delegation accused North Vietnam of a grotesque distortion of American aims in the conflict.

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman declared today that the United States wants to re-establish peace in Vietnam "on the basis of the 1954 Geneva accords" and does not object to the eventual unification of the country provided neither side uses force.

Going into his ninth session with Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam, Harriman said he would concentrate today on the Geneva agreements which ended French rule of Vietnam and divided the country 14 years ago.

Linked To Deadlock

He linked this immediately with the current conference deadlock over scaling down the war by saying that the first stage of action under the Geneva agreements is to re-establish peace.

Harriman also told newsmen that it was "too early to judge" why the Viet Cong had not carried out its threat to bombard Saigon with barrages of 100 rockets a day beginning last Monday. U.S. and South Vietnamese officials in Saigon generally felt the threat was a bluff.

At the session today, Harriman said, "We're planning to explain the 1954 accords and their application today."

Based On Geneva Pact

"We want to re-establish peace on the basis of. . . .the accords," he continued. "You know several stages were contemplated at that time. The first one is peace, and that requires the withdrawal of forces back of the 17th parallel and re-establishment of the demilitarized zone.

'Remember The Pueblo!'

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "Remember the Pueblo!"

That's the battle cry of Mrs. Rose Bucher, wife of the skipper of the captured U.S. intelligence vessel which has been in Communist North Korean hands for nearly six months.

Mrs. Bucher believes that her husband, Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, and the 81 other American crewmen will be freed but she vigorously protests the slow pace of diplomatic effort to win their release.

Cites State Department

"The Navy really doesn't have anything to do about it. The State Department is responsible. If our military leaders had been in control, we'd have the ship back.

Mrs. Bucher, who has two teen-age sons, is critical of the Defense Department for refusing to give her a list of crewmen's families. But she has managed to contact about three-fourths of the families.

"I feel an obligation as the commanding officer's wife to give words of encouragement. We give each other encouragement. It's our son, our husband or our loved one.

Matter Of Policy

"The Department of Defense said it was a matter of policy and would be invading people's privacy. I'm sure some don't want their name and address released. But others say it's okay. I guess they thought I was a rabble-rouser who would descend on Washington. Have we become so inhuman that people's feelings and human lives mean nothing?"

"The State Department has asked not only me but other families as well to 'minimize publicity.' The reason, they say, is we make noise and we make it more difficult on our husband or son.

"If I believed that, I wouldn't do it. If they can show me proof, then I will shut up."

Mrs. Bucher said she hates to see the Pueblo seizure become a political issue in the upcoming elections.

Democrats Embarrassed

"But there's no other way. The Democrats are so embarrassed they're hanging their heads. Republicans are picking it up.

"Those men on the ship are Republicans, Democrats, what have you. Many on the boat aren't even old enough to vote. Some are just 21 and could vote for the first time. Are they going to get absentee ballots?"

Committees of volunteers have formed in San Diego and elsewhere to distribute bumper stickers which say "Remember the Pueblo."

In Washington, the Remember the Pueblo Committee said it would picket the State Department today and bring relatives of the Pueblo crewmen to the capital at a later date to demand action.

Organizers Set Throng At 40,000

4,300 Police And Guardsmen Placed On Line Of March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Americans began pouring into Washington today to show their support for the Poor People's Campaign and its demands that the government do more to abolish poverty.

The organizers of "Solidarity Day" predicted 40,000 persons would gather around the tall, marble spire of the Washington Monument, making today's demonstration by far the largest in the six-weeks of the poor people's encampment in the nation's capital.

Mrs. King Present

Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the slain civil rights leader who conceived the campaign, said Tuesday her husband thought of it as "America's last chance to solve our problems nonviolently."

King delivered his famous "I have a dream" speech from the Lincoln Memorial during the 1963 civil rights march. That speech served as the inspiration for today's demonstration.

Despite promises from campaign leader The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy that there would be no civil disobedience and marchers would conduct themselves in "the finest nonviolent tradition," law enforcement officials took no chances.

Police, Guardsmen Ready

About 4,300 police and national guardsmen were on hand, most of them deployed along the half-mile line of march from the monument past Resurrection City to the Lincoln Memorial.

About 5,000 police and army troops were used in 1963 when 200,00 marchers demonstrated for racial desegregation and equal opportunity walked the same route and nearly filled the space between the two monuments.

Washington Public Safety Director Patrick V. Murphy said some Army units also will be on "high alert" close to the capitol, even though there is "no reason to expect" anything other than a peaceful march.

In All-Day Pursuit Near Khe Sanh

U.S. Marines, Artillery, Planes Kill 128 Of Enemy

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines, artillery and aircraft pursued a force of North Vietnamese regulars all day Tuesday through bomb-scarred valleys south of Khe Sanh and killed 128 of the enemy, the U.S. Command reported today.

Moving in at 3 a.m. under cover of a mortar barrage, the North Vietnamese probed for a weak spot in the defenses around a Marine position nine miles south of the combat base in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Unable to penetrate the Leathernecks' lines, the enemy withdrew and the Marines went on the attack. With artillery and air strikes clearing an explosive path before them, the ground troops maintained contact until nearly dusk. Then the North Vietnamese broke away.

A U.S. spokesman said 11 Marines were killed and 30 wounded.

It was the second big battle in the Khe Sanh area in four days. On Saturday, North Vietnamese troops tried unsuccessfully to overrun another Marine field position. The Marines said 219 of the enemy and 16 Marines were killed.

Since withstanding a 77-day enemy siege of the Khe Sanh combat base earlier this year, the Marines have been sweeping far afield and have clashed repeatedly with units of the North Vietnamese 304th Division. The enemy has been trying to cut Highway 9, the only overland supply route to Khe Sanh.

Saigon came under a feeble Viet Cong shelling, with two mortar rounds falling in a dock area but causing no casualties or damage, a government spokesman said. They were the first shells to hit the capital since Sunday despite a Viet Cong threat to rain 100 shells daily on the capital for 100 consecutive days beginning last Monday.

The rocket threat still hung over Saigon, but troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division removed some of it Tuesday when they found 32 warheads for 122mm rockets.

The warheads, wrapped in brown paper and covered by bushes, were spotted by Sgt. James N. Brown of Mansfield, Ohio, beside a canal eight miles north of Saigon.

The infantrymen searched along the canal and also found nine mortar tubes, 80 mortar rounds, 26 cases of mortar fuses and charges, 14 rifles and 13,000 rounds of rifle ammunition.

Viet Cong resistance continued to crumble in the northern suburb of Gia Dinh today and 28 more enemy soldiers surrendered. This brought to 178 the number of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who have given up since Tuesday morning in the greatest mass surrender of the war.

Out of food, short of ammunition and exhausted from weeks of steady fighting, they began surrendering when government marines encircled them and broadcast appeals for them to give up.

Supporter Wins In Senate Race

McCarthy Picks Up 51 New York Delegate Slots

ALBANY (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy jolted state Democratic forces today by overpowering Humphrey and Kennedy delegate slates while a McCarthy supporter scored an upset victory in a three-way Senate race.

Partial returns slowed by hand-counting of paper ballots gave McCarthy 51 of the 123 convention delegate slots at stake. Delegates who said they were remaining pledged to the ideals of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy won 20 while backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had one.

The voting trend indicated that McCarthy would maintain the wide lead in delegates.

The surprise Senate victor was Paul O'Dwyer, a former city councilman and brother of former mayor of New York City. He defeated Eugene H. Nickerson, Nassau County executive who came into the race at the urging of Kennedy and Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, of upstate Ellenville, a Johnson-Humphrey administration supporter.

In a phone call to O'Dwyer headquarters here, McCarthy said, "It's going to be very difficult for party leaders in New York to read the results and not tremble."

An O'Dwyer spokesman said later that McCarthy would make an unscheduled campaign visit to New York City late today, presumably to capitalize on the psychological lift the victory was expected to give his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

There was no immediate comment from the Humphrey camp. He had not mounted a major personal effort in the state.

McCarthy delegates were entered in 37 of the state's 41 congressional districts. Slates pledged to Humphrey ran in 25 and delegates pledged to Kennedy in 30.

While the Minnesota senator's feat impressed political observers, O'Dwyer's triumph was even more startling. He was expected to finish last in a three-way race but, running as a McCarthy adherent, managed to edge out the favored Nickerson.

Nickerson conceded defeat at 3:12 a.m., as O'Dwyer led by 18,500 votes. Resnick was running third.

With 12,306 of the state's 13,408 districts counted, O'Dwyer had 264,479 votes, Nickerson 248,092 and Resnick 214,270.

On the Republican side, supporters of Richard M. Nixon put up challengers for only 11 of the 82 delegate slots. The remaining 71 went automatically to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Of the 11, two in Queens went to Nixon, two in the Rochester area went to Rockefeller and seven were undecided.

The congressional phase of the primary saw all challenged incumbents win renomination—among them Brooklyn Democrat Emanuel Celler, the 80-year-old dean of the House.

The controversial Adam Clayton Powell, who was ousted from the House last year, also

Senate Group Advances Gun Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — With opposition melting under public pressure, a bill to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns has been sent to the Senate Judiciary Committee, for years a graveyard of such legislation.

The committee, meeting today on the bill, rejected it originally 10-6 just a few hours before the April 4 sniper-slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

But, against a backdrop of the Sen. Robert F. Kennedy assassination and a mounting public din, a clear majority now favors the bill and its chances are rated excellent—not only to reach the floor, but perhaps for quick passage, too.

The Judiciary subcommittee on juvenile delinquency gave quick approval to the measure Tuesday.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, ranking minority member of the parent committee, said he foresaw no objection to reporting the measure favorably to the Senate.

Under committee rules, however, a single member could request that action be put off for a week.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., a foe of the bill, told a reporter he hadn't decided whether to invoke the rule but wanted to be sure the measure receives thorough consideration.

Dirksen also shifted on the bill submitted to Congress by President Johnson after the Kennedy shooting June 5.

"If there is a demand for it, why should I resist it, Dirksen asked when questioned at a news conference about his change of position.

Most surprising was Hruska's statement that he would support the administration bill, although he said he hoped to win approval of some amendments.

Doctors Say Ike Has Irregular Heart Beat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has newly experienced "occasional irregularities" of the heart beat in his fight against his latest heart attack but these are "responding to appropriate therapy."

It was the first change of any kind recorded in the progressively optimistic medical bulletins that have been issued at Walter Reed Army Hospital since Eisenhower, 77, experienced a major heart attack Saturday night.

Mobilization Law Signed By Viet Chief

HUE, Vietnam (AP) —President Nguyen Van Trieu signed the general mobilization law today and said his government will not ask for more U.S. and other allied troops.

"The Vietnamese government intends to take over more responsibility," Thieu told newsmen after ceremonies marking Armed Forces Day. "We do not intend to ask the United States and the other allies for more troops."

In the past, Thieu has said more troops were needed above the allied contribution of 596,000 men to insure an accelerated victory.

Thieu said the general mobilization should add 125,000 men to the regular and militia forces of South Vietnam, bringing their number to almost 875,000 by the end of next year.

In All-Day Pursuit Near Khe Sanh

U.S. Marines, Artillery, Planes Kill 128 Of Enemy

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines, artillery and aircraft pursued a force of North Vietnamese regulars all day Tuesday through bomb-scarred valleys south of Khe Sanh and killed 128 of the enemy, the U.S. Command reported today.

Moving in at 3 a.m. under cover of a mortar barrage, the North Vietnamese probed for a weak spot in the defenses around a Marine position nine miles south of the combat base in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Unable to penetrate the Leathernecks' lines, the enemy withdrew and the Marines went on the attack. With artillery and air strikes clearing an explosive path before them, the ground troops maintained contact until nearly dusk. Then the North Vietnamese broke away.

A U.S. spokesman said 11 Marines were killed and 30 wounded.

It was the second big battle in the Khe Sanh area in four days. On Saturday, North Vietnamese troops tried unsuccessfully to overrun another Marine field position. The Marines said 219 of the enemy and 16 Marines were killed.

Since withstanding a 77-day enemy siege of the Khe Sanh combat base earlier this year, the Marines have been sweeping far afield and have clashed repeatedly with units of the North Vietnamese 304th Division. The enemy has been trying to cut Highway 9, the only overland supply route to Khe Sanh.

Saigon came under a feeble Viet Cong shelling, with two mortar rounds falling in a dock area but causing no casualties or damage, a government spokesman said. They were the first shells to hit the capital since Sunday despite a Viet Cong threat to rain 100 shells daily on the capital for 100 consecutive days beginning last Monday.

The rocket threat still hung over Saigon, but troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division removed some of it Tuesday when they found 32 warheads for 122mm rockets.

The warheads, wrapped in brown paper and covered by bushes, were spotted by Sgt. James N. Brown of Mansfield, Ohio, beside a canal eight miles north of Saigon.

The infantrymen searched along the canal and also found nine mortar tubes, 80 mortar rounds, 26 cases of mortar fuses and charges, 14 rifles and 13,000 rounds of rifle ammunition.

Viet Cong resistance continued to crumble in the northern suburb of Gia Dinh today and 28 more enemy soldiers surrendered. This brought to 178 the number of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who have given up since Tuesday morning in the greatest mass surrender of the war.

Out of food, short of ammunition and exhausted from weeks of steady fighting, they began surrendering when government marines encircled them and broadcast appeals for them to give up.

James R. Kirby, 23, of Chester RD 1 died Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Presbyterian-University Hospital, Pittsburgh, of injuries suffered early Saturday morning when his small auto rammed a wall on the River Rd.

Mr. Kirby suffered a severe head injury in the collision at 12:44 a. m. near the Y.E.L.P. trucking firm offices. Officers said he was driving west when his 1964 compact struck the wall and spun around, hurling him out.

Mr. Kirby was taken first to City Hospital, then transferred to Pittsburgh.

His death brought to 12 the number of traffic fatalities in Columbiana County to date in 1968, compared with 14 at the same time in 1967. Mr. Kirby was the second to die in an East Liverpool traffic mishap in 1968.

He was born in East Liverpool July 28, 1944, a son of Mrs. Mary White Kriby, who resides at Chester RD 1, and the late Delbert Riley Kirby. He lived in the Chester area his lifetime.

Doctors Say Ike Has Irregular Heart Beat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has newly experienced "occasional irregularities" of the heart beat in his fight against his latest heart attack but these are "responding to appropriate therapy."

It was the first change of any kind recorded in the progressively optimistic medical bulletins that have been issued at Walter Reed Army Hospital since Eisenhower, 77, experienced a major heart attack Saturday night.

Mobilization Law Signed By Viet Chief

HUE, Vietnam (AP) —President Nguyen Van Trieu signed the general mobilization law today and said his government will not ask for more U.S. and other allied troops.

"The Vietnamese government intends to take over more responsibility," Thieu told newsmen after ceremonies marking Armed Forces Day. "We do not intend to ask the United States and the other allies for more troops."

In the past, Thieu has said more troops were needed above the allied contribution of 596,000 men to insure an accelerated victory.

Thieu said the general mobilization should add 125,000 men to the regular and militia forces of South Vietnam, bringing their number to almost 875,000 by the end of next year.

Supporter Wins In Senate Race

McCarthy Picks Up 51 New York Delegate Slots

ALBANY (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy jolted state Democratic forces today by overpowering Humphrey and Kennedy delegate slates while a McCarthy supporter scored an upset victory in a three-way Senate race.

Partial returns slowed by hand-counting of paper ballots gave McCarthy 51 of the 123 convention delegate slots at stake. Delegates who said they were remaining pledged to the ideals of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy won 20 while backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had one.

The voting trend indicated that McCarthy would maintain the wide lead in delegates.

The surprise Senate victor was Paul O'Dwyer, a former city councilman and brother of former mayor of New York City. He defeated Eugene H. Nickerson, Nassau County executive who came into the race at the urging of Kennedy and Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, of upstate Ellenville, a Johnson-Humphrey administration supporter.

In a phone call to O'Dwyer headquarters here, McCarthy said, "It's going to be very difficult for party leaders in New York to read the results and not tremble."

An O'Dwyer spokesman said later that McCarthy would make an unscheduled campaign visit to New York City late today, presumably to capitalize on the psychological lift the victory was expected to give his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

There was no immediate comment from the Humphrey camp. He had not mounted a major personal effort in the state.

McCarthy delegates were entered in 37 of the state's 41 congressional districts. Slates pledged to Humphrey ran in 25 and delegates pledged to Kennedy in 30.

While the Minnesota senator's feat impressed political observers, O'Dwyer's triumph was even more startling. He was expected to finish last in a three-way race but, running as a McCarthy adherent, managed to edge out the favored Nickerson.

Nickerson conceded defeat at 3:12 a.m., as O'Dwyer led by 18,500 votes. Resnick was running third.

With 12,306 of the state's 13,408 districts counted, O'Dwyer had 264,479 votes, Nickerson 246,092 and Resnick 214,270.

On the Republican side, supporters of Richard M. Nixon put up challengers for only 11 of the 82 delegate slots. The remaining 71 went automatically to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Of the 11, two in Queens went to Nixon, two in the Rochester area went to Rockefeller and seven were undecided.

The congressional phase of the primary saw all challenged incumbents win renomination—among them Brooklyn Democrat Emanuel Celler, the 80-year-old dean of the House.

Senate Group Advances Gun Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — With opposition melting under public pressure, a bill to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns has been sent to the Senate Judiciary Committee, for years a graveyard of such legislation.

The committee, meeting today on the bill, rejected it originally 10-6 just a few hours before the April 4 sniper-slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

But, against a backdrop of the Sen. Robert F. Kennedy assassination and a mounting public din, a clear majority now favors the bill and its chances are rated excellent—not only to reach the floor, but perhaps for quick passage, too.

The Judiciary subcommittee on juvenile delinquency gave quick approval to the measure Tuesday.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, ranking minority member of the parent committee, said he foresaw no objection to reporting the measure favorably to the Senate.

Under committee rules, however, a single member could request that action be put off for a week.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., a foe of the bill, told a reporter he hadn't decided whether to invoke the rule but wanted to be sure the measure receives thorough consideration.

Dirksen also shifted on the bill submitted to Congress by President Johnson after the Kennedy shooting June 5.

"If there is a demand for it, why should I resist it, Dirksen asked when questioned at a news conference about his change of position.

Most surprising was Hruska's statement that he would support the administration bill, although he said he hoped to win approval of some amendments.

Way Cleared To Seek Bids For High-Rise

The Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority has received authority to prepare a legal advertisement for contractors' bids for erection of a 130-unit high-rise apartment building in West End to provide housing for the elderly, Merrill D. Hall, executive director, said today.

Robert F. Beatty, architect for the $2 million project, received the go - ahead about 5 p. m. Tuesday in a telephone conversation with an official in the Chicago regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Hall and Beatty are slated to

Fire Pumper, Car Damaged On North Side

A 71-year-old Gardendale man was cited by police Tuesday afternoon after a collision on St. Clair Ave. at McKinnon Ave. that damaged his 1962 sedan and a pumper truck of the city fire department.

The collision near the North Side Fire Station at 2:22 involved a northbound auto operated by Camden McKinley Coe of 1219 Canton St. and a 1949 GMC pumper driven by Fireman Merle F. McShane, 57, of 1216 Maine Blvd., officers said. Coe was charged with improper passing.

Coe told police he was driving uphill and started to pass the fire truck. When the truck began a left turn, he was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision, he said. McShane told officers he started a left turn onto McKinnon Ave. in order to back into the fire station. The car hit the left front fender of the fire truck, he said.

There was damage to the right front fender, grill, bumper and hood of the auto and the left front fender and bumper of the car, officers said.

A parked car was damaged Tuesday when it drifted from a lot near the Chester Bridge approach and struck a metal guardrail at the span, police said.

Bernard Benford of 1211 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, told officers his 1960 station wagon stalled as he was driving to work yesterday morning, so he parked it in a lot at the Ohio end of the span. Apparently the car drifted sometime during the day, hitting the guardrail, he said.

The left front of the auto was damaged but there was no damage to the bridge. The mishap was reported at 3:11 p.m.

Two cars were damaged in a mishap Tuesday at 4:11 p. m. on Market St. at Summit Ln.

The crash involved 1962 sedans driven by Stanley D. Riggs, 36, of 3rd St., Chester, and Gloria J. Manfredi, 24, of 751 Price St. Police said Riggs struck the Manfredi car while backing out of Summit Ln. onto Market St.

Another mishap Tuesday on Broadway near E. 5th St. damaged a 1967 sedan driven by Mrs. Ruth G. Coie of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, and a parked 1962 car owned by Joy Natalina of 926 St. George St., officers said.

Mrs. Coie was backing from a parking place when she bumped the Natalina auto, officers said. There was damage to the left front fender of the Coie car and the right rear fender of the Natalina auto.

Trio Charged In Fireworks

A Hammondsville man was among three charged Tuesday by the Jefferson County sheriff's department with illegal possession and sale of fireworks.

In a sweep through the northern section of the county, beginning at 5:15 p. m., Sheriff Richard Wells, accompanied by two deputies and Dominic Olivito, county prosecutor, took Clifford Vantilburg, 40, proprietor of the Cliff's Folk Club on Route 213, near Hammondsville, into custody.

The officers then arrested Samuel Abdalla, 29, of Stratton, owner of the Boat Club, on the same charge.

Driver Seeks Patrol Check, Given Citation

A 19-year-old driver who voluntarily sought a safety check of his auto by the Ohio Highway Patrol wound up in Municipal Court today with a citation listing five defects in the vehicle.

Israel J. Howard of the Y. & O. Rd. explained to Judge Samuel M. Chertoff he observed a patrol vehicle check under way on Route 170 June 6 and pulled into line with his car because "I wanted to know if it would pass."

The patrol charged him with operating an unsafe vehicle. The report said the car had a loud muffler, two smooth tires on the rear, no emergency brake and a defective hood latch. In addition, the corners of the rear bumper were missing, the citation said.

When Howard told the judge he since has sold the car, he was ordered to pay court costs.

A young couple — a motorcycle operator and his passenger — drew fines on charges of riding without protective headgear. Alvin Jerry Conci, 25, of Marshall Rd., Wellsville, the operator, was fined $15 and costs and Margaret E. Wilson, 18, also of Marshall Rd., his passenger, was fined $10 and costs.

The patrol said the two were cited Tuesday at 5:50 p. m. on County Rd. 424.

Mrs. Catherine E. Martin of 120 W. Drury Ln. was fined $10 and costs after the judge convicted her on a patrol charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone June 10 at 9:45 p. m. on the Freeway. She had pleaded not guilty.

Gary Wagner, 18, of 186 S. Surrey Rd. was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way at a flashing red warning light at the junction of County Rds. 435 and 436. The patrol cited Wagner Sunday at 1 a.m. after a traffic mishap.

Frank C. Smith of 787 Dresden Ave. was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of accelerating his auto and causing the tires to peel. He was cited Tuesday at 8:29 p. m. on Dresden Ave. by Patrolman James Woods. Smith said the action was unintentional and blamed it on a sticking carburetor.

The court set a hearing June 26 for Charles Landy of Valley Ave., who was cited Tuesday on Pennsylvania Ave. on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. The continuance was granted to allow police to get a transcript of Landy's license record from the Bureau of Motor Vehicles in Columbus.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A fully grown male baboon, to have been used for kidney transplant research, gave doctors at Karl Bremer Hospital a vigorous chase when it escaped as it was about to be operated on. It fled through a hospital window and was eventually cornered in the home of a police sergeant. A hospital official shot the baboon after it had spent 20 minutes in the house searching for food.

Youth Enters Guilty Plea In Loblaw Theft

LISBON — Samuel Shepard, 20, of 219 Commercial Ave., Steubenville, appeared before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court Monday and changed his plea from not guilty to guilty to a charge of burglary Oct. 15 at Loblaw's Market on Dresden Ave., East Liverpool.

The youth requested probation and the judge ordered a presentence investigation and report.

Shepard was one of three men indicted in the supermarket break-in which, the manager reported, cost the store $1,800 in food stole and spoiled because the intruders left freezer doors open.

Vincent M. DiMichele, 26, of Steubenville pleaded guilty and Richard L. Thorne, 27, of Richmond RD 1 was convicted April 4 by a Common Pleas Court jury. Both men are currently under investigation for probation.

A New City Role

Somewhat of an air of excitement has come over the city as last minute arrangements are made for the Tri - State Pottery Festival which begins tomorrow.

The fete is the first regional event to be centered in East Liverpool for many years, and is attracting attention at Cleveland, Pittsburgh and elsewhere.

Although intended as a tribute to the pottery industry which has had a national base here for more than a century, the festival also adds to the image of East Liverpool as a commercial hub for this junction of three states.

It has already carried to other towns and cities a new image of this city as an energetic host, eager to welcome visitors to our scenic valley, our industries, stores and other facilities.

It has brought a feeling of citizen participation in a community endeavor, as men, women and young people pitch in to create and develop programs and projects — not just for themselves or their organizations but for their city.

No one can be certain if this venture will be successful, or even if it can be adjudged as a winner or a flop. The hope is that it will bring many out - of - towners to see our potteries and our people, that they will be pleased, that the city may directly or indirectly reap some benefits.

The festival committees have already invested large amounts of time and labor and money, have recognized procedures which they would do differently if the opportunity were there, and are already planning for "next year."

The festival now gets down to the really hard work, and many people will be asked to do many things to help out. Motorists in particular are going to have the inconveniences of limited parking and restricted travel in the downtown district.

But the spirit of hospitality will prevail, based on a willingness to meet new people, make new friends and give East Liverpool a new outlook on its growing role as a key community in a developing Ohio Valley.

Start With The Best

Personable Patty Wyche, East Liverpool High School senior-to-be, didn't make it to the Governor's desk in balloting at the annual Girls State convention at Columbus Tuesday.

But Patty, a Younger Set correspondent for The Review and a busy and popular girl on the Potter campus, proved her abilities as a leader on the state level.

Keith Steiner, Beaver Local senior, earned a seat on the Boys State Supreme Court, showing again the winning talents which earlier this year brought him election as Ohio Key Club secretary.

Both might have some worthy tips for the politicos seeking to put themselves or their candidates into office. One obvious suggestion these two young people exemplify would be to start with the best material.

FAA Fund Request Is Sound

Federal Aviation Administration plans to seek $176 million in added appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1 are steps in the right direction.

Usually we join with other taxpayers in protesting higher government spending.

But in this case, unless Congress, the FAA and the federal administration act now, will find ourselves being penny-wise and dollar-foolish.

At stake is the safe movement of burgeoning air traffic in the skies, the overcrowded conditions at key air terminals and, consequently, the continued growth of our aviation industry.

AVIATION TODAY finds itself in the same position that our ground transportation facilities faced at the end of World War II.

No highways were build during the war years yet our population of car users continued to swell. World War II ended and our factories retooled from war production to manufacturing automobiles.

Our highways soon were overcrowded to the point that we suffered great economic loss from traffic jams and subsequent traffic fatalities, injuries and high property damage costs.

We haven't caught up on our transportation system yet, and we probably never will meet the demands for more and safer highways.

But if Congress acts now, perhaps our national aviation system — airports, terminal facilities, air navigational aids, and the staff to adequately man them — will not get as far behind.

The FAA's current request for added appropriations would raise its request for the next fiscal year to $937.1 million.

Some air traffic controllers now are working 10 and 12-hour work days, because of the shortage of personnel. It takes several years to train these highly-skilled technicians, and higher wages will be required to attract more workers into this facet of the industry.

With the big air bus jetliners looming over the horizon, plus the supersonic transports not too far behind, it is imperative that we gear our air transportation facilities development to this jet era.

NEW USER CHARGES proposed last month by the U.S. Department of Transportation include boosting the airline-passenger tax to 8 per cent from 5 per cent, a new 8 per cent tax on air freight and an escalating tax starting at 7 cents a gallon on jet fuel used by General aviation.

These proposals may require some compromising, but they would raise an additional $250 million in the coming year.

Quick and quiet action by Congress now will save loud wails later and at the same time offer users of aviation's facilities reasonable assurance that their travel will be both swift and safe.

Some Face Will Be Lost

It looks like one minor confrontation in the peace talks soon will be resolved. And it looks like one side or the other will lose face in the process.

Hanoi has said it will send 100 rockets a day for 100 days into Saigon.

U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman has said, in response, that if the attacks on the South Vietnamese capital continue it could have the most serious consequences for the talks.

Observers have speculated that this could mean either resumption of bombing further north in North Vietnam or calling off of the peace talks or both.

Both sides have talked tough on the issue. Now we must wait to see which one backs off.

Probably little will be made of it publicly but one side is going to lose some face. Let's hope it isn't the United States. The credibility of what we say already is stretched.

Equalizing Airline Costs

When more than 1,000 pilots for British Overseas Airways Corp. went on strike recently, demanding higher pay, it signaled the day when competition among foreign countries for travelers dollars will be on a more equal basis.

The strike grounded more than half the 46 airliners operated by BOAC.

The BOAC pilots are demanding the introduction of formula pay, a complicated structure used by U.S. airlines.

They said they were "angry and frustrated' by the lack of response from BOAC in talks that broke down recently.

Sir Giles Guthrie, chairman of BOAC, said the pilots wanted BOAC to accept a plan that the company hadn't had time to study in depth.

BOAC pilots' pay scales range from $9,000 a year for copilots to $14,112 for senior captains. Sir Giles said the pilots were demanding raises amounting to $240 a week.

The outcome of this situation undoubtedly will bring pilot pay scales on BOAC aircraft more in line with those of U.S. pilots, which in essence will help to equalize airline operating costs in Britain and the U.S.

Electronic Aid On Battlefield

We have heard before that the United States was winning the war or "turning the tide" or "gaining the upper hand" in the Vietnam War. But always the war has continued and always there have been new casualty lists, many of them longer than previous ones.

Now we hear again a positive statement from high military authority, the new commander in Vietnam, himself.

GEN. CREIGHTON W. ABRAMS has gone on record as saying that the Viet Cong rocket attacks on Saigon will be stopped. The general has declered: "We have to stop them and we have the means to stop them."

Although disappointed many times before when optimistic declarations proved false, most Americans probably will respond with new hope to the general's statement, possibly because he is new in command. He is, nevertheless, on the spot in making such an unequivocal assertion.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been very adept in the past in doing what they supposedly were unable to do.

Gen. Abrams, however, has the assistance of new, secret electronic talent in his effort to squash the rocket attacks. The electronic devices, which were installed during the past week, provide quick detection of enemy firing positions and provide radar--controlled guidance for counter fire.

First results have been successful enough for the general to issue his optimistic statement. If his forces can stymie the rocket attacks on Saigon, they also will make the North Vietnamese lose face for they have promised to fire 100 rockets a day into Saigon for 100 days.

THEIR BARGAINING position in Paris will suffer accordingly.

Gen. Abrams is talking the way we expect to hear an American general talk. He will earn the undying gratitude of the American people if he can follow through with action that will put an end to the war.

Odd Facts

The Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, were built by King Nebuchadnezzar about 2,500 years ago. These gardens were on the tops of towering walls that surrounded the king's place, and the walls themselves were as remarkable as the gardens, the highest rising some 300 feet.

The "Bachelor of Arts" degree was first conferred by European universities sometime in the 13th century. It took from four to six years to obtain a B.A. In the United States, the first Bachelor of Arts degree was conferred upon nine graduates of Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., in 1642.

Nixon Gains In Labor Vote

NEW YORK — There's something quite symbolic in Dick Nixon's last two vacation sorties. Early this month the incessant rains nearly washed out his idyll on Florida's Key Biscayne. A few days ago he forayed over to the Bahamas and the sun flamed all day.

Victor Riesel

He flew back to this big sullen town to learn that what the political sages say about Nelson Rockefeller drawing more strongly than be among labor and independent voters just is not true.

The last Gallup poll, rechecked after Bob Kennedy's assassination, disclosed that, startlingly enough, Mr. Nixon and Mr. Rockefeller run almost neck and neck among the nation's union families (of which there are 17 million).

If Nixon runs against Hubert Humphrey this fall, the former vice president, as of this sampling, would carry some 28 per cent of organized labor and their families. In a race against Humphrey, Mr. Rockefeller would run higher than Mr. Nixon by a negligible one per cent, or 29 per cent.

To insiders, this is as astounding as would be the news that Gen. de Gaulle had named Danny the Red police commissioner of Paris.

For years now, national labor leaders have cut Nixon's picture out of newspapers and stuck pins in it.

FOR YEARS NOW, Gov. Rockefeller has dealt directly with powerful labor chiefs, conferring with them in his home, in his executive mansion, in his tower suites, in his political headquarters, in restaurants, in his private planes and in off-the-record telephone chats.

His contacts have run the spectrum from union officials way left of center to sturdy old-line construction trades chiefs.

Yet now comes a poll showing that as many of the rank-and-file union men anl women and their families would vote for Dick Nixon as for Nelson Rockefeller.

Why? Obviously Dick Nixon has been doing something right. Obviously many labor leaders have lost touch with their rank and file, or can't influence them as effectively as they think they can.

Dick Nixon has still another answer. He believes the old quarrels have been tossed aside, forgotten or put on the back burner.

But let him tell it to you in his own words:

"I have listened on receiving lines and talked with hundreds of union men in the last four months of the primary road," Mr. Nixon told this correspondent.

"The questions these men ask are no different from those that other Americans ask. Their great concerns are the concerns of other Americans as well.

"They want to know how we can restore peace and order to our cities and our society," he said. "They ask me to explain my program for dealing with the rising crime in this country."

THESE THEMES RECUR in the dialogue. It's apparent that the Republican front runner and his staff have spent long hours on the longest running revolution in our history.

"They ask me to elaborate on the ideas I have put forth for genuine progress in reconciliation of the races and eliminating the inequities in American life," he continued. "They want to know my views on how we can end this war in Asia with honor — and bring a peace to that area that will be a permament one."

"The old issues of 14B and the secondary boycott are not the questions that the men of the rank and file ask me to answer.

"The traditional questions between union men and political men, the traditional quarrels even, between union and management, have been put on the back burner.

"Union men are no different," he said, "from other Americans. They are beneficiaries of our free and open society. They are deep believers in the democratic system, and they are deeply concerned about the future of both that society and system."

Nixon continued: "I think that political men who run this fall will learn what I have learned on the long road of the primaries this spring.

"THE OLD ISSUES and the old quarrels within our system, between management and labor, even between Republican and Democrat and liberal and conservative, are being put aside until we decide together just how we are going to preserve the system that has done so much for us all."

And so it is obvious that millions in and out of labor are looking for answers without giving labor — or its leaders — an priority.

And to top all this, Hubert Humphrey in this poll failed to get 50 per cent of the union family vote. He ran 47 per cent against Dick Nixon's 28 per cent, and 44 per cent against Gov. Rockefeller's 29 per cent. And George Wallace also ran well for a third party man, capturing 18 per cent of the labor vote.

Apparently a little rain has fallen on the political activity of the nation's labor leaders. They're caught with their intramural communications down.

TV Debates

There is talk of a possible Rockefeller-Nixon debate or, perhaps later, a Nixon-Humphrey debate on television.

But is the purpose of a "debate" between two presidential candidates merely to present a television "show" to an audience of 25 or 30 million.

Will this enable the viewers -- or the rest of the 70 million or more voters who read about it later — to make up their minds just which man is really capable of being president of the United States for four years?

The answer to the second question must regrettably be in the negative. For the whole American system of government would suffer if the man with the best display of wit or the master of sharp retort could by such a performance defeat a thoughtful, dignified person who might speak less glibly but whose hesitation might be the mark of a careful and deliberate mind.

THERE'S A BETTER method to pick a president than by a direct confrontation of nominees in an hour's "debate" which can become a dialogue of abstract phrases or a means of comparing spur-of-the-moment or impromptu skill with the studious and penetrating mind of a man without such TV sparkle.

The way to give the American people a useful presentation of the attitude of candidates on specific subjects of major importance is to set aside two hours of an evening and give each of the two candidates one hour to express his thoughts comprehensively on a particular subject.

Then, after two candidates had spoken, a panel of two separate groups of newsmen would, the next night, be given an hour for interrogation of each nominee.

There would be an opportunity in the questioning to take up almost every phase of a public issue, and the people would get the viewpoint of each presidential candidate. The voters then would have something better than superficial or fragmentary utterances on which to form a judgment.

This would afford time to analyze the speeches and study the comments and criticisms in the press.

The newspapers, moreover, would be printing the texts of the speeches so that persons who work nights or for other reasons are unable to see the TV presentation would not miss out on national affairs.

Certainly this would be a more efficient way to present the views of presidential nominees than are haphazard commentaries on a television show.

While the hour-long Kennedy-Nixon debates on four separate evenings during the campaign of 1960 were interesting, the treatment of public questions was to a large extent superficial, and did not bring out all the points of significance involved in their statements.

Nor did some of the watchers reach a conclusion as to which man to vote for based on an understanding of the views expressed by the candidates. Rather it was a contest in showmanship in which the younger man of more attractive appearance gained many supporters largely by reason of his personality.

When the gravity of decisions on public policy — affecting perhaps the lives of millions which could be lost in a nuclear war — is considered, it would appear logical that the voter should become acquainted with and be impressed by the mind of a candidate rather than whether his facial expressions happen to be pleasing or unpleasing.

Television is a great invention from the political angle, for it does give the people a chance to watch as well as listen, and enables the candidates to reach vast audiences.

SINCE, HOWEVER, it is primarily a medium of entertainment, the dramatic side — a confrontation — has been emphasized. The tendency is to limit speeches to a relatively short length.

Surely two hours on each of eight evenings during September and October is not too much time to give to such an important presentation and analysis of the views on public policy held by the two candidates, one of whom would become president of the United States next January.

Certainly such use of TV time would be a public service.

It would be far more effective than a spirited repartee which makes a good show but doesn't necessarily help the voters to learn the fundamental concepts of future policies as explained by the candidates for the most important office in the world today.

Through The Years

The strike grounded more than half the 46 airliners operated by BOAC.

The BOAC pilots are demanding the introduction of formula pay, a complicated structure used by U.S. airlines.

They said they were "angry and frustrated' by the lack of response from BOAC in talks that broke down recently.

Sir Giles Guthrie, chairman of BOAC, said the pilots wanted BOAC to accept a plan that the company hadn't had time to study in depth.

BOAC pilots' pay scales range from $9,000 a year for copilots to $14,112 for senior captains. Sir Giles said the pilots were demanding raises amounting to $240 a week.

The outcome of this situation undoubtedly will bring pilot pay scales on BOAC aircraft more in line with those of U.S. pilots, which in essence will help to equalize airline operating costs in Britain and the U.S.

Electronic Aid On Battlefield

We have heard before that the United States was winning the war or "turning the tide" or "gaining the upper hand" in the Vietnam War. But always the war has continued and always there have been new casualty lists, many of them longer than previous ones.

Now we hear again a positive statement from high military authority, the new commander in Vietnam, himself.

GEN. CREIGHTON W. ABRAMS has gone on record as saying that the Viet Cong rocket attacks on Saigon will be stopped. The general has declered: "We have to stop them and we have the means to stop them."

Although disappointed many times before when optimistic declarations proved false, most Americans probably will respond with new hope to the general's statement, possibly because he is new in command. He is, nevertheless, on the spot in making such an unequivocal assertion.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been very adept in the past in doing what they supposedly were unable to do.

Gen. Abrams, however, has the assistance of new, secret electronic talent in his effort to squash the rocket attacks. The electronic devices, which were installed during the past week, provide quick detection of enemy firing positions and provide radar-controlled guidance for counter fire.

First results have been successful enough for the general to issue his optimistic statement. If his forces can stymie the rocket attacks on Saigon, they also will make the North Vietnamese lose face for they have promised to fire 100 rockets a day into Saigon for 100 days.

THEIR BARGAINING position in Paris will suffer accordingly.

Gen. Abrams is talking the way we expect to hear an American general talk. He will earn the undying gratitude of the American people if he can follow through with action that will put an end to the war.

Odd Facts

The Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, were built by King Nebuchadnezzar about 2,500 years ago. These gardens were on the tops of towering walls that surrounded the king's place, and the walls themselves were as remarkable as the gardens, the highest rising some 300 feet.

The "Bachelor of Arts" degree was first conferred by European universities sometime in the 13th century. It took from four to six years to obtain a B.A. In the United States, the first Bachelor of Arts degree was conferred upon nine graduates of Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., in 1642.

Nixon Gains In Labor Vote

NEW YORK — There's something quite symbolic in Dick Nixon's last two vacation sorties. Early this month the incessant rains nearly washed out his idyll on Florida's Key Biscayne. A few days ago he forayed over to the Bahamas and the sun flamed all day.

Victor Riesel

He flew back to this big sullen town to learn that what the political sages say about Nelson Rockefeller drawing more strongly than be among labor and independent voters just is not true.

The last Gallup poll, rechecked after Bob Kennedy's assassination, disclosed that, startlingly enough, Mr. Nixon and Mr. Rockefeller run almost neck and neck among the nation's union families (of which there are 17 million).

If Nixon runs against Hubert Humphrey this fall, the former vice president, as of this sampling, would carry some 28 per cent of organized labor and their families. In a race against Humphrey, Mr. Rockefeller would run higher than Mr. Nixon by a negligible one per cent, or 29 per cent.

To insiders, this is as astounding as would be the news that Gen. de Gaulle had named Danny the Red police commissioner of Paris.

For years now, national labor leaders have cut Nixon's picture out of newspapers and stuck pins in it.

FOR YEARS NOW, Gov. Rockefeller has dealt directly with powerful labor chiefs, conferring with them in his home, in his executive mansion, in his tower suites, in his political headquarters, in restaurants, in his private planes and in off-the-record telephone chats.

His contacts have run the spectrum from union officials way left of center to sturdy old-line construction trades chiefs.

Yet now comes a poll showing that as many of the rank-and-file union men anl women and their families would vote for Dick Nixon as for Nelson Rockefeller.

Why? Obviously Dick Nixon has been doing something right. Obviously many labor leaders have lost touch with their rank and file, or can't influence them as effectively as they think they can.

Dick Nixon has still another answer. He believes the old quarrels have been tossed aside, forgotten or put on the back burner.

But let him tell it to you in his own words:

"I have listened on receiving lines and talked with hundreds of union men in the last four months of the primary road," Mr. Nixon told this correspondent.

"The questions these men ask are no different from those that other Americans ask. Their great concerns are the concerns of other Americans as well.

"They want to know how we can restore peace and order to our cities and our society," he said. "They ask me to explain my program for dealing with the rising crime in this country."

THESE THEMES RECUR in the dialogue. It's apparent that the Republican front runner and his staff have spent long hours on the longest running revolution in our history.

"They ask me to elaborate on the ideas I have put forth for genuine progress in reconciliation of the races and eliminating the inequities in American life," he continued. "They want to know my views on how we can end this war in Asia with honor — and bring a peace to that area that will be a permament one."

"The old issues of 14B and the secondary boycott are not the questions that the men of the rank and file ask me to answer.

"The traditional questions between union men and political men, the traditional quarrels even, between union and management, have been put on the back burner.

"Union men are no different," he said, "from other Americans. They are beneficiaries of our free and open society. They are deep believers in the democratic system, and they are deeply concerned about the future of both that society and system."

Nixon continued: "I think that political men who run this fall will learn what I have learned on the long road of the primaries this spring.

"THE OLD ISSUES and the old quarrels within our system, between management and labor, even between Republican and Democrat and liberal and conservative, are being put aside until we decide together just how we are going to preserve the system that has done so much for us all."

And so it is obvious that millions in and out of labor are looking for answers without giving labor — or its leaders — an priority.

And to top all this, Hubert Humphrey in this poll failed to get 50 per cent of the union family vote. He ran 47 per cent against Dick Nixon's 28 per cent, and 44 per cent against Gov. Rockefeller's 29 per cent. And George Wallace also ran well for a third party man, capturing 18 per cent of the labor vote.

Apparently a little rain has fallen on the political activity of the nation's labor leaders. They're caught with their intramural communications down.

TV Debates

There is talk of a possible Rockefeller-Nixon debate or, perhaps later, a Nixon-Humphrey debate on television.

But is the purpose of a "debate" between two presidential candidates merely to present a television "show" to an audience of 25 or 30 million.

Will this enable the viewers -- or the rest of the 70 million or more voters who read about it later — to make up their minds just which man is really capable of being president of the United States for four years?

The answer to the second question must regrettably be in the negative. For the whole American system of government would suffer if the man with the best display of wit or the master of sharp retort could by such a performance defeat a thoughtful, dignified person who might speak less glibly but whose hesitation might be the mark of a careful and deliberate mind.

THERE'S A BETTER method to pick a president than by a direct confrontation of nominees in an hour's "debate" which can become a dialogue of abstract phrases or a means of comparing spur-of-the-moment or impromptu skill with the studious and penetrating mind of a man without such TV sparkle.

The way to give the American people a useful presentation of the attitude of candidates on specific subjects of major importance is to set aside two hours of an evening and give each of the two candidates one hour to express his thoughts comprehensively on a particular subject.

Then, after two candidates had spoken, a panel of two separate groups of newsmen would, the next night, be given an hour for interrogation of each nominee.

There would be an opportunity in the questioning to take up almost every phase of a public issue, and the people would get the viewpoint of each presidential candidate. The voters then would have something better than superficial or fragmentary utterances on which to form a judgment.

This would afford time to analyze the speeches and study the comments and criticisms in the press.

The newspapers, moreover, would be printing the texts of the speeches so that persons who work nights or for other reasons are unable to see the TV presentation would not miss out on national affairs.

Certainly this would be a more efficient way to present the views of presidential nominees than are haphazard commentaries on a television show.

While the hour-long Kennedy-Nixon debates on four separate evenings during the campaign of 1960 were interesting, the treatment of public questions was to a large extent superficial, and did not bring out all the points of significance involved in their statements.

Nor did some of the watchers reach a conclusion as to which man to vote for based on an understanding of the views expressed by the candidates. Rather it was a contest in showmanship in which the younger man of more attractive appearance gained many supporters largely by reason of his personality.

When the gravity of decisions on public policy — affecting perhaps the lives of millions which could be lost in a nuclear war — is considered, it would appear logical that the voter should become acquainted with and be impressed by the mind of a candidate rather than whether his facial expressions happen to be pleasing or unpleasing.

Television is a great invention from the political angle, for it does give the people a chance to watch as well as listen, and enables the candidates to reach vast audiences.

SINCE, HOWEVER, it is primarily a medium of entertainment, the dramatic side — a confrontation — has been emphasized. The tendency is to limit speeches to a relatively short length.

Surely two hours on each of eight evenings during September and October is not too much time to give to such an important presentation and analysis of the views on public policy held by the two candidates, one of whom would become president of the United States next January.

Certainly such use of TV time would be a public service.

It would be far more effective than a spirited repartee which makes a good show but doesn't necessarily help the voters to learn the fundamental concepts of future policies as explained by the candidates for the most important office in the world today.

Wellsville Fund Action Slated At Session Tonight

Wellsville Council, in special session tonight, will seek to pass under emergency rules legislation providing for the borrowing of $25,000 to supplement the general fund until additional revenue becomes available.

The session will begin at 7.

The proposal received first reading at Tuesday night's meeting.

LEGISLATION on three other issues was authorized during a busy session.

Councilmen caucused with representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. prior to last night's meeting relative to a new gas rate, with no final action taken.

At the recommendation of J. B. Phillips, claims, rules and ordinances committee chairman, legislation was ordered to amend an old ordinance pertaining to vandalism and misuse of parking meters. "More stringent laws are needed now in view of the present abuse," Phillips declared.

Council approved legislation be drawn up granting permission to the Bonded Oil Co. of Springfield to cut and extend the curb on 3rd St. from Commerce St. to the Bell property to construct a service station.

Included in the legislation will be an agreement by the city to vacate part of the street in the area if the company agrees to install a sidewalk.

DURING committee reports, Jack Call, chairman of the water and sewage committee, read a letter from William McKinnon of Quicksall and Associates of New Philadelphia, addressed to John McCaughtry of 315 Chester Ave., East Liverpool, advising the latter that his property in the Koontz Ave. area is not included in the county commissioners' outlines for areas to receive water and sewage services.

The land will have to be developed in some other way, the letter continued.

Call advised Council that the city's only offer should be to furnish the water after everything else is completed.

Nunzio Lombardozzi, Third Ward councilman, reported Fr. Cavanaugh of the Immaculate Conception Church, requested Council consider vacating the portion of property between the school playground and railroad tracks to be used by the church as additional parking space.

The matter was referred to the street and light committee.

WAYNE ROSE, acting mayor, reported the fire hydrant between 10th and 11th Sts. — damaged Sunday when struck by a car driven by Glen Kelly of Industry — will be repaired when Kelly's insurance is settled. A $200 bond is being held in escrow until that time, Rose added.

In other street and light committee business, Council granted a request to rent a parking space to the proprietor of Cataldo's TV and Radio Service. Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, will be instructed to offer Cataldo the third space west of 5th St., Lombardozzi said.

Cataldo will be required to pay the new rates, Lombardozzi added.

A request from Hudson's Super Foods for a loading zone during certain hours was referred to the street and light committee.

Council instructed Baldasare to contact the Ohio Power Co. relative to the erection of two street lights on either end of the alley beween 17th St. and Aten Ave. and running parallel to Clark and Chester Aves.

One other light is to be erected in the alley between Main, Maple, 18th and 19th Sts.

Phillips reported the request for a light near the Potts residence on 18th St. Heights, submitted last year, cannot be granted in view of the fact that at least two other poles would have to be erected.

In response to an inquiry from Helen Welch, chairman of he Hammond Park Commission relative to the recreation program, Lombardozzi said he will try to arrange a meeting with recreation officials following the special meeting Wednesday.

Lombardozzi reported his committee is meeting with city employes to draw up complete plans for the summer road program.

RELATIVE to the deep ditch on Route 45 which was blamed for a recent car mishap, Lombardozzi reported conferences with Baldasare have resulted in the conclusion that any changes to the ditch would cause an excess of water on the roadway.

Complaints from the Russell Heights area that the new sewage system will result in higher water rates, were answered by Call, who said the rates only would be higher in view of the additional water necessary to flush waste material through the lines.

Council authorized the mobile unit of the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services, which will be at Wellsville June 24-28, to use the electrical outlet at the corner of Main and 4th Sts. at the city's expense.

Rose said the water service problem at Russell Heights has been remedied and steps taken to prevent further trouble.

Rose also pointed out there is a problem of getting persons arrested for driving on intoxicated charges to the state patrol barracks for alcohol tests when only one officer is on duty.

CLERK A. J. Lynn was instructed to contact the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh relative to complaints from Riverside Ave. residents that the Dravo dredgeboats are tying to trees in the area, damaging, and at least in one case, uprooting the trees.

Council accepted a letter and check for $300 from Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara representing the estate of Mrs. Cora King for perpetual care of the family's cemetery lots.

A letter from Miss Rebecca Resnick of the Columbiana County Board of Elections office at East Liverpool requested the city make the necessary arrangements to schedule issues to appear on the November ballot with the office as soon as possible. The Council directed the letter be turned over to William Bush, solicitor.

Members of Council were invited by Frank Fusco, chairman of the volunteer firemen's homecoming, to participate in the parade Friday.

3 Escape Serious Injury As Auto Wrecks, 'Splits'

Three county youths escaped serious injury in a spectacular one-car collision Tuesday which cut their car in half.

Officers of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a 1961 coach, operated by Joseph E. Woods, 19, of Washingtonville, was split in half just behind the front seat when it went out of control on County Rd. 400 near Salem at 9 p. m. and struck a guardrail.

In "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital is John Haller, 18, of Leetonia, a passenger in the car, lacerations of the forehead and right foot and abrasions of the right foot and both knees.

Treated at the hospital were Woods, contusions of the right shoulder and abrasions of the body, and Gary Sobotka, 19, of Washingtonville, also a passenger in the Woods car, lacerations and contusions of the right leg and abrasions of both legs.

A city man's car was the object of a hit-skip mishap on County Rd. 427, about 2½ miles north of Route 7 Tuesday.

Jack Norton, 59, of East Liverpool RD 1, told patrolmen his 1961 sedan was northbound on County Rd. 427 at 5 p. m. when an unidentified vehicle, attempting to overtake his car struck the left front of the sedan as it cut back into the right lane too soon.

A 1963 coach, driven by Clarence L. Hole, 36, of Rogers RD 1, and a truck operated by Richard L. Roshon, 62, of Marion St., East Palestine, were involved in a mishap on County Rd. 419, a half-mile north of Route 7 Tuesday.

Officers said the mishap occurred at 8:35 a. m. when the Hole car, northbound, collided with the southbound Roshon truck. Damage was slight, officers said.

Summitville Council Given Road Report

SUMMITVILLE — A report on the progress of the county road program here and regulations governing the use of the tennis and basketball court were discussed during a meeting of Council Tuesday.

Mayor Ernest Phillips said Depot, Oak and West Summit streets and the portion of Township Rd. 846 located within the city limits have received a surface seal.

He said 3,793 gallons of asphalt and 150 tons of slag were used.

Phillips also reported rules for the tennis and basketball courts will be drawn up to control use of the area by outsiders and regulate the hours of play.

Tentatively, Phillips continued, non - residents of the village and Franklin Township must be accompanied by a resident in order to be permitted on the courts.

Everyone must be off the courts by 11 p.m., he added.

Services will be held Thursday at 3:30 p. m. at the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. John Moosey of the Heights Bible Baptist Church. Burial will be in Shadow Lawn Memory Gardens, Newell.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Thursday up to the time of service.

A telephone did not grace the desk of a United States President until the Hoover Administration in 1929, the National Geographic says. The first presidential phone call, however was placed in 1877 when Rutherford B. Hayes and Alexander Graham Bell spoke through 13 miles of wire in Rhode Island.

Nearly a year ago, the housing authority was assured a federally - guaranteed loan for the project.

One of the final steps for the project was taken Monday night when Council enacted legislation officially rezoning the tract on which the multi - storied structure will be erected. The site lies between Dresden Ave. and the Freeway, north of W. 9th St.

Hall made his announcement this morning in the office of Mayor George E. Willshaw.

"This shows that our planning program has not been in vain," the mayor commented.

Council authorized the mobile unit of the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services, which will be at Wellsville June 24-28, to use the electrical outlet at the corner of Main and 4th Sts. at the city's expense.

Rose said the water service problem at Russell Heights has been remedied and steps taken to prevent further trouble.

Rose also pointed out there is a problem of getting persons arrested for driving on intoxicated charges to the state patrol barracks for alcohol tests when only one officer is on duty.

CLERK A. J. Lynn was instructed to contact the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh relative to complaints from Riverside Ave. residents that the Dravo dredgeboats are tying to trees in the area, damaging, and at least in one case, uprooting the trees.

Council accepted a letter and check for $300 from Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara representing the estate of Mrs. Cora King for perpetual care of the family's cemetery lots.

A letter from Miss Rebecca Resnick of the Columbiana County Board of Elections office at East Liverpool requested the city make the necessary arrangements to schedule issues to appear on the November ballot with the office as soon as possible. The Council directed the letter be turned over to William Bush, solicitor.

Members of Council were invited by Frank Fusco, chairman of the volunteer firemen's homecoming, to participate in the parade Friday.

3 Escape Serious Injury As Auto Wrecks, 'Splits'

Three county youths escaped serious injury in a spectacular one-car collision Tuesday which cut their car in half.

Officers of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a 1961 coach, operated by Joseph E. Woods, 19, of Washingtonville, was split in half just behind the front seat when it went out of control on County Rd. 400 near Salem at 9 p. m. and struck a guardrail.

In "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital is John Haller, 18, of Leetonia, a passenger in the car, lacerations of the forehead and right foot and abrasions of the right foot and both knees.

Treated at the hospital were Woods, contusions of the right shoulder and abrasions of the body, and Gary Sobotka, 19, of Washingtonville, also a passenger in the Woods car, lacerations and contusions of the right leg and abrasions of both legs.

A city man's car was the object of a hit-skip mishap on County Rd. 427, about 2½ miles north of Route 7 Tuesday.

Jack Norton, 59, of East Liverpool RD 1, told patrolmen his 1961 sedan was northbound on County Rd. 427 at 5 p. m. when an unidentified vehicle, attempting to overtake his car struck the left front of the sedan as it cut back into the right lane too soon.

A 1963 coach, driven by Clarence L. Hole, 36, of Rogers RD 1, and a truck operated by Richard L. Roshon, 62, of Marion St., East Palestine, were involved in a mishap on County Rd. 419, a half-mile north of Route 7 Tuesday.

Officers said the mishap occurred at 8:35 a. m. when the Hole car, northbound, collided with the southbound Roshon truck. Damage was slight, officers said.

Summitville Council Given Road Report

SUMMITVILLE — A report on the progress of the county road program here and regulations governing the use of the tennis and basketball court were discussed during a meeting of Council Tuesday.

Mayor Ernest Phillips said Depot, Oak and West Summit streets and the portion of Township Rd. 846 located within the city limits have received a surface seal.

He said 3,793 gallons of asphalt and 150 tons of slag were used.

Phillips also reported rules for the tennis and basketball courts will be drawn up to control use of the area by outsiders and regulate the hours of play.

Tentatively, Phillips continued, non - residents of the village and Franklin Township must be accompanied by a resident in order to be permitted on the courts.

Everyone must be off the courts by 11 p.m., he added.

Services will be held Thursday at 3:30 p. m. at the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. John Moosey of the Heights Bible Baptist Church. Burial will be in Shadow Lawn Memory Gardens, Newell.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Thursday up to the time of service.

A telephone did not grace the desk of a United States President until the Hoover Administration in 1929, the National Geographic says. The first presidential phone call, however was placed in 1877 when Rutherford B. Hayes and Alexander Graham Bell spoke through 13 miles of wire in Rhode Island.

confer this afternoon with L. W. Smith Jr., attorney for the housing authority, to discuss details of the legal notice. Hall said he does not know what date will be specified for the bid-opening.

Nearly a year ago, the housing authority was assured a federally - guaranteed loan for the project.

One of the final steps for the project was taken Monday night when Council enacted legislation officially rezoning the tract on which the multi - storied structure will be erected. The site lies between Dresden Ave. and the Freeway, north of W. 9th St.

Hall made his announcement this morning in the office of Mayor George E. Willshaw.

"This shows that our planning program has not been in vain," the mayor commented.

Moderation Called Key To A Healthy Summer

LISBON — The Columbiana County branch of the Heart Association of Eastern Ohio advises vacationers who have heart disease in any form, or suspect it, to follow a doctor's advice.

The association gives these general rules to get most healthy individuals comfortably through the summer:

1.—Don't go beyond your normal capacity in anything you do.

2. — Don't overeat.

3. — Wear loose garments, white or light in color; wear a head covering in any prolonged period in the hot sun to avoid heat stroke.

4. — Don't rush into vacations. Working into a program of moderate exercise gradually will protect your heart.

5. — Don't gulp icy drinks. Cool drinks will put you at ease.

6. — Avoid sudden and extreme temperature changes. For example, plunging an overheated body into cold water can trigger a heart attack in a susceptible individual.

7. — Remember, your heart is not on vacation. Treat it with care and it will respond with a happy beat — the summer and the whole year round.

8. — Moderation is the key in everything. Follow a nutritious diet, but don't overeat. Instead of rich, fatty foods, eat fish, chicken, turkey, lean meats, vegetables, fruit, skimmed milk, cheeses made with skimmed milk, and margarines and shortenings made with polyunsaturated vegetable oils. These are light, digestible, and the basis for a diet low in cholesterol and saturated fats which promotes better health the year round.

Sally Lindsay To Seek 'Dairy Princess' Title

NEW WATERFORD — Sally Lindsay, 19, of RD 1 will represent Columbiana County in the Ohio Dairy Princess contest Friday and Saturday at Columbus.

The County Dairymen's Association selected her as its candidate for the state princess award to be given by the American Dairy Association of Ohio.

Miss Lindsay has been a "queen" on three occasions — homecoming at Crestview High School, District 4 Jersey queen in 1966 and campus day queen this year at the Salem branch of Kent State University.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindsay, who operate a 170-acre farm and have a herd of 50 jerseys. Her hobbies include riding horses, tennis, swimming, writing poetry, playing the piano and making her own clothes. She has been a 4-H Club member 10 years and attended the Ohio club congress in 1966 and the young adults' conference in 1967 at Jackson's Mill, W. Va.

Princess Sally has two sisters —Kathy, also a student at KSU, and Amy, 8, and three brothers, Dan who has just returned from Vietnam and plans to enter Kent State; Tim, a student at Crestview High, and Scott, 6.

Diane Thompson Wins 'Queen Of Beef' Title

LISBON — Diane Thompson, 17, a Southern Local High School senior, has been chosen "Queen of the Beef" by the beef committee of Columbiana and Mahoning counties. She will be the counties' entry in the "Ohio Queen of the Beef" contest.

Diane is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson of Hanoverton RD 1, who raise beef cattle on their farm west of Gavers and are widely known for their potatoes and strawberries.

Aspirants for the title had to write an essay on "Beef — My Family's Favorite." Diane wrote about the beef operation at the Thompson farm and her rivalry with her brothers in trying to produce the grand champion steer for the County Fair.

Her brother David, a graduate of Southern High, had the county grand champion in 1966. He will graduate this month from Ohio Valley Business College in East Liverpool. James will be a freshman at Southern. Diane's sister, Lynnell, is 4.

Diane is a member of the Franklin Junior 4-H Club and the Columbiana County Steer Club.

Window Project Contract Is Let

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday awarded a contract for washing windows in the Courthouse to Maxim Window Cleaning of Salem RD 3 on a bid of $225.

They said Maxim's bid specified washing "inside and outside" while the only other bid—$145 by Forrest Johnson of Steubenville — did not say whether it included the outside.

The city of East Liverpool was paid $23 for 46 stray dogs destroyed during May.

Commissinoers approved payment of statements from two service organizations for Memorial Day expenses — Hattie Bishop Circle of the Ladies of the GAR, Columbiana, $40.66, and Lisbon American Legion Post 275, $50.

Londoners born within sound of the bells of the church of St. Mary-le-Bow are referred to as "Cockneys."

Our bottom can save yours.

We put the zig-zag cut sole on our Mainsail sneaker to give you an extra edge when you run into a wet surface. In fact, a lot of extra edges.

Sailors discovered the secret of Mainsails first. But that doesn't mean you don't need them on land. Rain is just as slippery as any other kind of water.

Besides, Mainsails are the most comfortable sneaker we've ever made.

Best of all, you can take Mainsails to a lot of places you wouldn't take ordinary sneakers. Because they look as good as they behave. And they come in four modern colors in addition to white.

So you don't have to save Mainsails for a rainy day.

Decision Due In Water Plan

The Industry Municipal Authority will meet tonight at 7:30 to determine whether or not enough subscribers have been obtained to award contracts for the proposed $540,200 water expansion project.

The project requires a 90 per cent signup. Lack of response from residents has endangered the proposal. However, Donald Haswell, chairman, said residents of Industry village and Engle Rd. have shown more response than was first received last week.

If enough subscribers are received, the authority will let contracts. Attending will be a representative of Singer, Deane and Scribner of Beaver, a stock and bonding firm, who will discuss the bond issue required.

Water presently is being supplied in Industry borough from three deep wells in Ohio View, where the treatmant plant and pumps are located. Haswell said the wells have been in use about 25 years and will continue as the source of supply under the new program.

Individual septic tanks now are in use throughout the borough, but because of government regulations, borough leaders have been considering construction of a sewage treatment plant within the next four or five years. This will follow the upgrading of the water supply.

Moderation Called Key To A Healthy Summer

LISBON — The Columbiana County branch of the Heart Association of Eastern Ohio advises vacationers who have heart disease in any form, or suspect it, to follow a doctor's advice.

The association gives these general rules to get most healthy individuals comfortably through the summer:

1.—Don't go beyond your normal capacity in anything you do.

2. — Don't overeat.

3. — Wear loose garments, white or light in color; wear a head covering in any prolonged period in the hot sun to avoid heat stroke.

4. — Don't rush into vacations. Working into a program of moderate exercise gradually will protect your heart.

5. — Don't gulp icy drinks. Cool drinks will put you at ease.

6. — Avoid sudden and extreme temperature changes. For example, plunging an overheated body into cold water can trigger a heart attack in a susceptible individual.

7. — Remember, your heart is not on vacation. Treat it with care and it will respond with a happy beat — the summer and the whole year round.

8. — Moderation is the key in everything. Follow a nutritious diet, but don't overeat. Instead of rich, fatty foods, eat fish, chicken, turkey, lean meats, vegetables, fruit, skimmed milk, cheeses made with skimmed milk, and margarines and shortenings made with polyunsaturated vegetable oils. These are light, digestible, and the basis for a diet low in cholesterol and saturated fats which promotes better health the year round.

McCarthy

Election returns were delayed because of the unusually large number of contests for a wide variety of offices, including seats in both houses of the state legislature, as well as Congress and the presidential delegates.

O'Dwyer, Nickerson and Resnick provided the first test of the state's direct-primary law, replacing the old convention method of choosing candidates for statewide office.

They vied for the right to oppose U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, who had no contest for the GOP nomination and easily repelled labor lawyer Murray Baron's challenge for the Liberal party endorsement.

Tabulating the vote for presidential delegates was the most difficult process, since New York designates most of its delegates by electing them individually from each of the state's 43 congressional districts.

Elected officials — Charles J. Gause of Hanoverton RD 1, county commissioner; Alfred Stoudt of East Rochester RD 1, Hanover Township clerk; Norman Bucher, East Liverpool councilman; Mayor Clyde B. Pike of Lisbon, Mayor Dwayne Felton of Salineville and Mayor Dan Cullinan of Leetonia.

Business - industry - social services — Charles Boso of the Ohio State Employment Service office in East Liverpool; Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Rogers, patient services chairman for Muscular Dystrophy; Donald P. Hepp of Columbiana, county welfare director; the Rev. E. H. Harris of East Liverpool Baptist Church; Mrs. Theda Thornton of Homeworth, county tuberculosis clinic nurse, and Mrs. Helen Welch, Wellsville high school librarian and past president of the CAA.

THE NEW board will meet at the call of the president to elect officers.

Rev. Ring introduced Lionel Smith of Salem, who began work June 3 as executive director of the CAA, and Mrs. Dan Henderson, director of the East Liverpool - Wellsville Community Center in East Liverpool.

He announced that Miss Ann Johnston, assistant principal at Westgate School, East Liverpool, has been employed as chairman of the summer "Head Start" program, and that Miss Ann Lecroy of Salem, who organized the community center program at Salineville, is in Salem City Hospital.

The president summarized the various programs operated by the CAA at a total cost of $165,228:

Summer "Head Start" for 105 youngsters at seven centers beginning Monday, $18,787; winter Neighborhood Youth Corps, which gave work to 62 boys, a supervisor and two staff persons, $52,000; year-round "Head Start," 45 children in three centers, $31,654, and summer Neighborhood Youth Corps for 60 boys from all 11 high schools in the county, $11,887.

A program coordinator from VISTA is due June 27 or 28 to work in the CAA office this summer.

The next meeting will be July 18 in the Welfare Department Building at Lisbon.

Reminder Given On Garbage Cans

Health Commissioner Jack Bonner said today many East Liverpool householders have obtained new standard 20-gallon garbage cans in compliance with a joint order from the Health Department and the incinerator department condemning make-shift containers.

Persons who have not replaced the unauthorized containers should do so as quickly as possible, Bonner said.

He pointed out refuse should be wrapped in heavy layers of paper to help prevent seepage of liquids that would corrode the can and attract rats and flies. Householders should mark the cans with their names and addresses to prevent loss, he added.

Development Official Taken On City Tour

Roshon was accompanied by Carroll V. Hill, head of the professional planning firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates, which is preparing East Liverpool's "master plan" for development.

Roshon was taken on a general tour of sites of interest, including the new school complex under construction on Maine Blvd.

Span Project In Last Stage

Work is in its final stages for construction of a $252,000 auto - pedestrian ramp spanning the Freeway and linking up the two dead - end sections of W. 9th St.

The blacktop surface has been applied to the bridge floor, virtually all of the sidewalk has been poured and guardrails are in place. Workers are slated to shape up and seed the berms and remove the concrete forms from the under side of the span.

The prime contractor is the A. P. O'Horo Co. of Youngstown, which launched work last October.

Ohio Highway Department inspectors at the site said they have received no word on the official opening date for the span or whether dedication ceremonies are planned. That information will come from the central office in Columbus or the Division 11 headquarters in New Philadelphia, they indicated.

Sunnyside area residents fought for erection of the span after the Freeway project bisected W. 9th St., hampering auto, bus and pedestrian travel. The state and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads footed most of the bill.

THE NEW board has 18 members, compared with 14 before, and is comprised of six members each from three groups—elected officials, low - income and disadvantaged, and industry - business - social services. Named were:

Business - industry - social services — Charles Boso of the Ohio State Employment Service office in East Liverpool; Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Rogers, patient services chairman for Muscular Dystrophy; Donald P. Hepp of Columbiana, county welfare director; the Rev. E. H. Harris of East Liverpool Baptist Church; Mrs. Theda Thornton of Homeworth, county tuberculosis clinic nurse, and Mrs. Helen Welch, Wellsville high school librarian and past president of the CAA.

THE NEW board will meet at the call of the president to elect officers.

Rev. Ring introduced Lionel Smith of Salem, who began work June 3 as executive director of the CAA, and Mrs. Dan Henderson, director of the East Liverpool - Wellsville Community Center in East Liverpool.

He announced that Miss Ann Johnston, assistant principal at Westgate School, East Liverpool, has been employed as chairman of the summer "Head Start" program, and that Miss Ann Lecroy of Salem, who organized the community center program at Salineville, is in Salem City Hospital.

The president summarized the various programs operated by the CAA at a total cost of $165,228:

Summer "Head Start" for 105 youngsters at seven centers beginning Monday, $18,787; winter Neighborhood Youth Corps, which gave work to 62 boys, a supervisor and two staff persons, $52,000; year-round "Head Start," 45 children in three centers, $31,654, and summer Neighborhood Youth Corps for 60 boys from all 11 high schools in the county, $11,887.

A program coordinator from VISTA is due June 27 or 28 to work in the CAA office this summer.

The next meeting will be July 18 in the Welfare Department Building at Lisbon.

Reminder Given On Garbage Cans

Health Commissioner Jack Bonner said today many East Liverpool householders have obtained new standard 20-gallon garbage cans in compliance with a joint order from the Health Department and the incinerator department condemning make-shift containers.

Persons who have not replaced the unauthorized containers should do so as quickly as possible, Bonner said.

He pointed out refuse should be wrapped in heavy layers of paper to help prevent seepage of liquids that would corrode the can and attract rats and flies. Householders should mark the cans with their names and addresses to prevent loss, he added.

Development Official Taken On City Tour

Roshon was accompanied by Carroll V. Hill, head of the professional planning firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates, which is preparing East Liverpool's "master plan" for development.

Roshon was taken on a general tour of sites of interest, including the new school complex under construction on Maine Blvd.

Span Project In Last Stage

Work is in its final stages for construction of a $252,000 auto - pedestrian ramp spanning the Freeway and linking up the two dead - end sections of W. 9th St.

The blacktop surface has been applied to the bridge floor, virtually all of the sidewalk has been poured and guardrails are in place. Workers are slated to shape up and seed the berms and remove the concrete forms from the under side of the span.

The prime contractor is the A. P. O'Horo Co. of Youngstown, which launched work last October.

Ohio Highway Department inspectors at the site said they have received no word on the official opening date for the span or whether dedication ceremonies are planned. That information will come from the central office in Columbus or the Division 11 headquarters in New Philadelphia, they indicated.

Sunnyside area residents fought for erection of the span after the Freeway project bisected W. 9th St., hampering auto, bus and pedestrian travel. The state and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads footed most of the bill.

Dennis Klembara, who received the Harry Greenwood Memorial Award as the outstanding athlete at Beaver Local this year, has announced that he will attend Youngstown State U. on a full football scholarship.

Klembara, an outstanding quarterback, was honorable mention all-east, all-Buckeye Border and all-county. He threw the most touchdown passes of any quarterback in the area, despite missing the end of the season due to an injury.

Klembara also played basketball and baseball for the Beavers, and hopes to be able to play baseball as well as football at Youngstown. He is currently playing for the Leetonia American Legion baseball team.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Klembara of West Point. He expects to study mathematics or engineering at YSU. He was recruited by head football coach Dike Beede.

ANOTHER TOP Beaver Local athlete is not sure of his plans for next season. Rex Campbell earlier had announced that he would attend Ohio U. on a partial baseball scholarship, but was drafted on the 13th round by the Detroit Tigers in the recent free-agent baseball draft. Campbell has not yet made up his mind whether to accept the Tiger offer. He could do this and still attend college, but would lose his scholarship and any chance of playing collegiate sports.

TONY CLONINGER, recently acquired by the Reds, has a history of arm and eye troubles, but insists he is in fine shape physically at this point. He was bombed in his first Cincinnati start, however.

PENNSYLVANIA will participate in the National American Legion baseball tournament this season for the first time since 1937. Pennsylvania dropped out that year due to a squabble about ineligible players in the Legion World Series. The state is acknowledged to have one of the strongest Legion programs in the country, with graduates that include Stan Musial, Roy Campenella, Curt Simmons, Mickey Vernon, Dick Groat, Joe Page, Nellie Fox and Richie Allen.

Matty Alou's Hit Scores Winner

By JACK L. SHOLL
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fred Patek was hurt again and Roberto Clemente was home with a cold, but Willie Stargell and Matty Alou were feeling pretty good.

They felt so good Tuesday night they pushed the Pittsburgh Pirates to their seventh straight win by beating the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 over ten innings.

"When we were at Los Angeles I didn't swing the way I thought I should. I was stiff. It was that way the whole time we were on the road," Stargell said.

"Since we've been back I've been taking medication," he said, rubbing his right shoulder. "I've been taking pills during meals and I don't feel any pain now. It's a lot better."

Stargell looked healthy enough to the Dodgers. Hank Aguirre purposely walked him the 10th.

Alou's been in pretty good shape. Going into Tuesdays game he was batting .364 which included a three-run double Monday against Houston.

But he was especially happy Tuesday over Harry Walker's new post as manager of the Astros. Alou felt so good about the news that he bounced a single up the middle and scored Maury Wills for the win.

The hit was the only one he had in five at bats and Alou said he's had trouble before with Don Drysdale who left in the eighth.

"He is one of the toughest pitchers in the league. The last time I was up against him I went 0-4," Alou said.

Alou credit Walker with helping him the most with his hitting the first year Walker managed the Pirates in 1966. Alou says that after Walker worked with him over the spring of 1966 he hit .342 and won the National League batting title.

"I'm really happy about Walker," Alou said. "He is a really fine man and he knows a lot about baseball."

Clemente didn't suit up Tuesday. He was reported ill with a virus or cold. Patek was hit by a pitched ball by Drysdale in the seventh and was taken out with a bruised wrist in the eighth. The little shortstop was hit in the side of the neck Tuesday and was taken out when he complained of blurred vision.

Drysdale himself was a casualty in the eighth. When he left the game with a pulled back muscle after giving up four hits.

Drysdale missed shuting out the Pirates for the sixth consecutive time in the fifth when patek beat out a bunt, Jerry May was hit by a pitch and shortstop Zoilo Versalles fielded Bob Moose's ground single deep in the hole and threw wildly to third trying to force Patek, who scored.

The Dodgers scored off Moose in the fourth on Len Gabrielson's single, an infield out and Ron Fairly's RBI single. With two outs in the sixth Gabrielson walked and scored on Tom Haller's long double.

Dock Ellis, 1-0, making his first major league appearance, was the winner. Aguire, 0-1, who relieved Brewer, was the loser.

Astros Sweep Twinbill Under Harry Walker

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Harry Walker and Bob Skinner, baseball's newest managers, did double-takes Tuesday night but it was the New York Mets and San Francisco Giants who couldn't believe their eyes.

The Houston Astros, who had lost six straight games and fallen deep into the National League cellar, made Walker's first day a rousing success by sweeping a twi-night doubleheader from the Mets 3-2 and 6-5.

Skinner, who succeeded Gene Mauch as Philadelphia skipper on Sunday, got his first two victories as the Phillies walloped the Giants in a twi-nighter 10-2 and 9-1.

Elsewhere, league-leading St. Louis edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0, Cincinnati defeated Atlanta 7-5 and Pittsburgh nipped Los Angeles in 10 innings 3-2.

"You can't do a lot of things at this stage," Walker said after replacing Grady Hatton at the Houston helm Tuesday afternoon. One of the things the Astros have almost always been able to do in the seven years of their existence is beat the Mets.

They won the opener on Jim Wynn's seventh-inning homer and took the nightcap on Bob Watson's seventh-inning sacrifice fly after blowing a 5-0 lead. Ironically, Watson had replaced Wynn after the Houston slugger aggravated a groin injury.

Denny Lemaster hurled a six-hitter in the opener, fanning 10, and rookie Jim Ray picked up his first major league victory in the second game with six innings of shutout relief.

"If all had gone well with the club we'd all have been happier, myself included, to keep things just as they were," said Walker, who was the Astros' batting coach and a close friend of Hatton's.

Walker previously piloted the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates. The latter club fired him last July and he joined the Astros four days later.

Skinner, like Walker a former hard-hitting big league outfielder, was managing the Phillies' San Diego farm team in the Pacific Coast League when he was tapped to replace Mauch. He lost his debut to the Dodgers but looked on in delight Tuesday night as the Phils pounded out 13 hits in each game, posted their first doubleheader sweep since last August and climbed into third place.

Southpaws Chris Short and Woody Fryman went the route and batted in two runs apiece. Richie Allen who had his troubles with Mauch, and Cookie Rojas both slugged a pair of homers. The Phils salted away the first game with six runs in the fifth inning and scored four in the fifth inning of the nightcap for a 5-0 lead.

Burbick's, Woodbine's Win In Pony League Play

Burbick's rolled on in Pony League play last night, downing Sevy's 7-2 at Beaver Local, while Woodbine's upset Littens 9-4 at Thompson Park.

But Gregory sparked Burbick's with three hits, including a double, while Tom Samples and Randy Bosworth also doubled. Jim Tipton was the winning pitcher in relief. Dave Kyle was the losing itcher. Dale Jones doubled for Littens.

Rick Lockhart continued his heavy hitting for Woodbine's, slamming a two - run homer and scoring three times. Phil Fiorello had three hits and Phil LaScola two and Dean Horger a double. Randy Barnard got the win, with relief from Lockhart. Steve Smith was the loser. Gary Cunningham had two hits for Littens.

Twins Edge Senators, Allen's Error Costly

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Helping hands gave Cleveland's Sam McDowell and Baltimore's Tom Phoebus the means to an end. Helping themselves got the Washington Senators nowhere.

Stan Williams pitched a perfect ninth inning to nail McDowell's 4-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox and Pete Richert protected Phoebus' 3-2 nod over Oakland in the ninth as the Indians and Orioles pulled out of embarrassing tailspins Tuesday night.

The Senators exploded for eight runs in the last two innings at Minnesota, twice overtaking the torrid Twins, but still came up on the short end of a 9-8 count that ran their losing string to seven games.

First place Detroit edged Boston 2-1 and California subdued the New York Yankees 3-1 behind rookie Tom Murphy in other American League games.

McDowell, Cleveland's southpaw strikeout king, braked the Indians' skid after seven straight losses, striking out seven and yielding six hits before giving way to Williams in the ninth. McDowell, 7-5, had a four-hit shutout until the Sox scored in the eighth on a walk and singles by Ken Berry and Wayne Causey.

The Indians did all their scoring in the sixth against Gary Peters, Max Alvis' two-run single capping the rally.

"That was the most important game of the season," said McDowell. "Now we're ready to roll. After all, we scored four runs tonight. That's almost unbelievable."

Phoebus, 6-6, allowed six hits and fanned 10 until the ninth, when he was lifted with nobody out and the tying run on second base. Richert got Danny Cater to line into a double play, choking off the rally and bringing the Orioles' five-game losing streak to an end.

Jim Nash stopped Baltimore on three hits until the seventh, when Frank Robinson singled and Brooks Robinson homered, tying it 2-2.

Andy Etchebarren led off the Orioles' eighth with a single, moved to second on Phoebus' sacrifice and third on Don Buford's single before scoring the tie-breaker as Fred Valentine forced Buford at second.

Washington, trailing 4-0 wtih two out in the eighth, struck for six runs—two on Frank Howard's 23rd homer and the last three on Paul Casanova's first of the year.

But Ted Uhlaender slammed a three-run homer in the bottom of the inning, giving the Twins a 7-6 edge. Back came the Senators on RBI singles by Ken McMullen and Mike Epstein in the ninth for an 8-7 lead.

Then Rich Rollins singled with one out in the Twins' ninth and Frank Quilici tripled him home before scoring the winning run as Cesar Tovar grounded to second baseman Bernie Allen, who bobbled the ball and missed his chance for a play at the plate.

Quilici, surfacing for the first time since he played a key role in the Twins 1965 pennant drive, has stroked eight hits—five of them for extra bases—in 22 at-bats, a .364 clip.

The victory, fifth in a row for the Twins, left them in fourth place—one-half game back of Cleveland, one behind Baltimore and nine off Detroit's pace.

The Tigers rolled to the 12th victory in their last 15 starts behind Earl Wilson, who got ninth inning help from Pat Dobson and beat Boston for the seventh time in eight decisions since the Red Sox dealt him to Detroit two years ago.

Jim Northrup doubled home a first inning run off loser Jose Santiago, then singled in the sixth and eventually scored on a single by Willie Horton.

The Red Sox closed in on Ken Harrelson's run-scoring single after Dobson replaced Wilson in the ninth. Harrelson took third on a single by Reggie Smith, but was thrown out at the plate on Rico Petrocelli's tap back to Dobson. The reliever then fanned pinch hitters Dalton Jones and Jerry Adair to wrap it up.

Murphy, a 22-year-old right-hander making his second major league start, stopped the Yankees on four hits and struck out five.

The Angels broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the third after Bill Monbouquette relieved New York starter Al Downing. Jim Fregosi tripled in the go-ahead run and scored on a sacrifice fly by Rich Reichardt.

Dennis Klembara, who received the Harry Greenwood Memorial Award as the outstanding athlete at Beaver Local this year, has announced that he will attend Youngstown State U. on a full football scholarship.

Klembara, an outstanding quarterback, was honorable mention all-east, all-Buckeye Border and all-county. He threw the most touchdown passes of any quarterback in the area, despite missing the end of the season due to an injury.

Klembara also played basketball and baseball for the Beavers, and hopes to be able to play baseball as well as football at Youngstown. He is currently playing for the Leetonia American Legion baseball team.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Klembara of West Point. He expects to study mathematics or engineering at YSU. He was recruited by head football coach Dike Beede.

ANOTHER TOP Beaver Local athlete is not sure of his plans for next season. Rex Campbell earlier had announced that he would attend Ohio U. on a partial baseball scholarship, but was drafted on the 13th round by the Detroit Tigers in the recent free-agent baseball draft. Campbell has not yet made up his mind whether to accept the Tiger offer. He could do this and still attend college, but would lose his scholarship and any chance of playing collegiate sports.

TONY CLONINGER, recently acquired by the Reds, has a history of arm and eye troubles, but insists he is in fine shape physically at this point. He was bombed in his first Cincinnati start, however.

PENNSYLVANIA will participate in the National American Legion baseball tournament this season for the first time since 1937. Pennsylvania dropped out that year due to a squabble about ineligible players in the Legion World Series. The state is acknowledged to have one of the strongest Legion programs in the country, with graduates that include Stan Musial, Roy Campenella, Curt Simmons, Mickey Vernon, Dick Groat, Joe Page, Nellie Fox and Richie Allen.

Matty Alou's Hit Scores Winner

By JACK L. SHOLL
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fred Patek was hurt again and Roberto Clemente was home with a cold, but Willie Stargell and Matty Alou were feeling pretty good.

They felt so good Tuesday night they pushed the Pittsburgh Pirates to their seventh straight win by beating the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 over ten innings.

"When we were at Los Angeles I didn't swing the way I thought I should. I was stiff. It was that way the whole time we were on the road," Stargell said.

"Since we've been back I've been taking medication," he said, rubbing his right shoulder. "I've been taking pills during meals and I don't feel any pain now. It's a lot better."

Stargell looked healthy enough to the Dodgers. Hank Aguirre purposely walked him the 10th.

Alou's been in pretty good shape. Going into Tuesdays game he was batting .364 which included a three-run double Monday against Houston.

But he was especially happy Tuesday over Harry Walker's new post as manager of the Astros. Alou felt so good about the news that he bounced a single up the middle and scored Maury Wills for the win.

The hit was the only one he had in five at bats and Alou said he's had trouble before with Don Drysdale who left in the eighth.

"He is one of the toughest pitchers in the league. The last time I was up against him I went 0-4," Alou said.

Alou credit Walker with helping him the most with his hitting the first year Walker managed the Pirates in 1966. Alou says that after Walker worked with him over the spring of 1966 he hit .342 and won the National League batting title.

"I'm really happy about Walker," Alou said. "He is a really fine man and he knows a lot about baseball."

Clemente didn't suit up Tuesday. He was reported ill with a virus or cold. Patek was hit by a pitched ball by Drysdale in the seventh and was taken out with a bruised wrist in the eighth. The little shortstop was hit in the side of the neck Tuesday and was taken out when he complained of blurred vision.

Drysdale himself was a casualty in the eighth. When he left the game with a pulled back muscle after giving up four hits.

Drysdale missed shuting out the Pirates for the sixth consecutive time in the fifth when patek beat out a bunt, Jerry May was hit by a pitch and shortstop Zoilo Versalles fielded Bob Moose's ground single deep in the hole and threw wildly to third trying to force Patek, who scored.

The Dodgers scored off Moose in the fourth on Len Gabrielson's single, an infield out and Ron Fairly's RBI single. With two outs in the sixth Gabrielson walked and scored on Tom Haller's long double.

Dock Ellis, 1-0, making his first major league appearance, was the winner. Aguire, 0-1, who relieved Brewer, was the loser.

Astros Sweep Twinbill Under Harry Walker

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Harry Walker and Bob Skinner, baseball's newest managers, did double-takes Tuesday night but it was the New York Mets and San Francisco Giants who couldn't believe their eyes.

The Houston Astros, who had lost six straight games and fallen deep into the National League cellar, made Walker's first day a rousing success by sweeping a twi-night doubleheader from the Mets 3-2 and 6-5.

Skinner, who succeeded Gene Mauch as Philadelphia skipper on Sunday, got his first two victories as the Phillies walloped the Giants in a twi-nighter 10-2 and 9-1.

Elsewhere, league-leading St. Louis edged the Chicago Cubs 1-0, Cincinnati defeated Atlanta 7-5 and Pittsburgh nipped Los Angeles in 10 innings 3-2.

"You can't do a lot of things at this stage," Walker said after replacing Grady Hatton at the Houston helm Tuesday afternoon. One of the things the Astros have almost always been able to do in the seven years of their existence is beat the Mets.

They won the opener on Jim Wynn's seventh-inning homer and took the nightcap on Bob Watson's seventh-inning sacrifice fly after blowing a 5-0 lead. Ironically, Watson had replaced Wynn after the Houston slugger aggravated a groin injury.

Denny Lemaster hurled a six-hitter in the opener, fanning 10, and rookie Jim Ray picked up his first major league victory in the second game with six innings of shutout relief.

"If all had gone well with the club we'd all have been happier, myself included, to keep things just as they were," said Walker, who was the Astros' batting coach and a close friend of Hatton's.

Walker previously piloted the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates. The latter club fired him last July and he joined the Astros four days later.

Skinner, like Walker a former hard-hitting big league outfielder, was managing the Phillies' San Diego farm team in the Pacific Coast League when he was tapped to replace Mauch. He lost his debut to the Dodgers but looked on in delight Tuesday night as the Phils pounded out 13 hits in each game, posted their first doubleheader sweep since last August and climbed into third place.

Southpaws Chris Short and Woody Fryman went the route and batted in two runs apiece. Richie Allen who had his troubles with Mauch, and Cookie Rojas both slugged a pair of homers. The Phils salted away the first game with six runs in the fifth inning and scored four in the fifth inning of the nightcap for a 5-0 lead.

Burbick's, Woodbine's Win In Pony League Play

Burbick's rolled on in Pony League play last night, downing Sevy's 7-2 at Beaver Local, while Woodbine's upset Littens 9-4 at Thompson Park.

But Gregory sparked Burbick's with three hits, including a double, while Tom Samples and Randy Bosworth also doubled. Jim Tipton was the winning pitcher in relief. Dave Kyle was the losing itcher. Dale Jones doubled for Littens.

Rick Lockhart continued his heavy hitting for Woodbine's, slamming a two-run homer and scoring three times. Phil Fiorello had three hits and Phil LaScola two and Dean Horger a double. Randy Barnard got the win, with relief from Lockhart. Steve Smith was the loser. Gary Cunningham had two hits for Littens.

Twins Edge Senators, Allen's Error Costly

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Helping hands gave Cleveland's Sam McDowell and Baltimore's Tom Phoebus the means to an end. Helping themselves got the Washington Senators nowhere.

Stan Williams pitched a perfect ninth inning to nail McDowell's 4-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox and Pete Richert protected Phoebus' 3-2 nod over Oakland in the ninth as the Indians and Orioles pulled out of embarrassing tailspins Tuesday night.

The Senators exploded for eight runs in the last two innings at Minnesota, twice overtaking the torrid Twins, but still came up on the short end of a 9-8 count that ran their losing string to seven games.

First place Detroit edged Boston 2-1 and California subdued the New York Yankees 3-1 behind rookie Tom Murphy in other American League games.

McDowell, Cleveland's southpaw strikeout king, braked the Indians' skid after seven straight losses, striking out seven and yielding six hits before giving way to Williams in the ninth. McDowell, 7-5, had a four-hit shutout until the Sox scored in the eighth on a walk and singles by Ken Berry and Wayne Causey.

The Indians did all their scoring in the sixth against Gary Peters, Max Alvis' two-run single capping the rally.

"That was the most important game of the season," said McDowell. "Now we're ready to roll. After all, we scored four runs tonight. That's almost unbelievable."

Phoebus, 6-6, allowed six hits and fanned 10 until the ninth, when he was lifted with nobody out and the tying run on second base. Richert got Danny Cater to line into a double play, choking off the rally and bringing the Orioles' five-game losing streak to an end.

Jim Nash stopped Baltimore on three hits until the seventh, when Frank Robinson singled and Brooks Robinson homered, tying it 2-2.

Andy Etchebarren led off the Orioles' eighth with a single, moved to second on Phoebus' sacrifice and third on Don Buford's single before scoring the tie-breaker as Fred Valentine forced Buford at second.

Washington, trailing 4-0 wtih two out in the eighth, struck for six runs—two on Frank Howard's 23rd homer and the last three on Paul Casanova's first of the year.

But Ted Uhlaender slammed a three-run homer in the bottom of the inning, giving the Twins a 7-6 edge. Back came the Senators on RBI singles by Ken McMullen and Mike Epstein in the ninth for an 8-7 lead.

Then Rich Rollins singled with one out in the Twins' ninth and Frank Quilici tripled him home before scoring the winning run as Cesar Tovar grounded to second baseman Bernie Allen, who bobbled the ball and missed his chance for a play at the plate.

Quilici, surfacing for the first time since he played a key role in the Twins 1965 pennant drive, has stroked eight hits—five of them for extra bases—in 22 at-bats, a .364 clip.

The victory, fifth in a row for the Twins, left them in fourth place—one-half game back of Cleveland, one behind Baltimore and nine off Detroit's pace.

The Tigers rolled to the 12th victory in their last 15 starts behind Earl Wilson, who got ninth inning help from Pat Dobson and beat Boston for the seventh time in eight decisions since the Red Sox dealt him to Detroit two years ago.

Jim Northrup doubled home a first inning run off loser Jose Santiago, then singled in the sixth and eventually scored on a single by Willie Horton.

The Red Sox closed in on Ken Harrelson's run-scoring single after Dobson replaced Wilson in the ninth. Harrelson took third on a single by Reggie Smith, but was thrown out at the plate on Rico Petrocelli's tap back to Dobson. The reliever then fanned pinch hitters Dalton Jones and Jerry Adair to wrap it up.

Murphy, a 22-year-old right-hander making his second major league start, stopped the Yankees on four hits and struck out five.

The Angels broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the third after Bill Monbouquette relieved New York starter Al Downing. Jim Fregosi tripled in the go-ahead run and scored on a sacrifice fly by Rich Reichardt.

Most Managers Seen Safe Despite Recent Firings

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that Grady Hatton and Gene Mauch have walked the plank, the baseball vultures are wondering who will be the next to go.

With four new jobs opening up next season at Montreal, Kansas City, Seattle and San Diego, the job possibilities are brighter than usual.

Mauch already has been mentioned in some circles as a possibility for San Diego and Joe Adcock, let out last year at Cleveland, is supposed to be set to move up with Seattle from minors to majors.

Taking the Tuesday morning standings as a guide, here is a rundown on the status of the current managerial crop:

National League

Red Schoendienst, St. Louis—Working on a one-year contract despite leading the Cards to the world championship last fall. Red Birds leading the league by a comfortable margin despite serious slumps by key hitters.

Luman Harris, Atlanta—Hired to succeed Billy Hitchcock last fall. Long time confidante of Paul Richards, the vice president in charge of baseball operations. Has Braves in race and should be secure.

Herman Franks, San Francisco—Has best winning record of any manager in the league with three straight second place finishes. Operates on year-to-year basis. In strong position to finish second again unless Cards falter.

Walter Alston, Los Angeles—Walter almost goes with the franchise. In his 15th year as Dodger skipper. Thanks to Don Drysdale has club in race and will continue to get new contracts as long as he wants them.

Bob Skinner, Philadelphia—Just arrived from San Diego with job assured through 1969 and fine minor league record to back him up.

Leo Durocher, Chicago—They tore up his original three-year contract and gave him a new two-year deal that runs through 1969. Under Leo the Cubs have looked more like a ball club although not up to startling surprises of last summer.

Gil Hodges, New York—Could be manager of the year. In first year of three-year contract running through 1970, he has pulled the Mets out of basement while developing fine young pitching staff.

Dave Bristol, Cincinnati—Sore-armed pitching staff that forced him to shuffle starting roation has contributed to slow start. A solid baseball man wih extensive minor league experience, he is set through 1969.

Larry Shepard, Pittsburgh—Organization man whose main job was to be straightening out pitching staff. Found club's best hitters in puzzling slump but beginning to find old spark. Given one-year contract when hired last fall to succeed Harry Walker.

Harry Walker, Houston—Back again after a brief period as batting instructor for the Astros. Was the available man when last-place situation made Grady Hatton expendable.

American League

Mayo Smith, Detroit—Just missed last year and threatens to run away with it this time. Got a two-year contract when he took over for the late Chuck Dressen at the end of 1966 season.

Hank Bauer, Baltimore—Working on second half of two-year deal after Orioles won 1966 pennant. Injuries and illness of Frank Robinson and troubles with pitching have made it tough to close in on Tigers.

Alvin Dark, Cleveland — Until Tribe fell into losing tailspin was able to hang in race. Still within striking distance. Brought in by Gabe Paul as successor to Joe Adcock last October and given two-year contract.

Cal Ermer, Minnesota—Made big move with Twins last year after taking over from Sam Mele but club has played in spurts this year. In keeping with Calvin Griffith's new policy, all contracts one year.

Dick Williams, Boston—Nothing to worry about with a three-year contract running through 1970. Jim Lonborg's injury and loss of Tony Conigliaro have hurt.

Bob Kennedy, Oakland—A's have done better than most people expected in his first year of two-year deal. Flirting with the .500 mark and comfortably removed from cellar.

Ralph Houk, New York—Another club doing a little better than anticipated despite absence of Al Downing for many weeks and early injury to Joe Pepitone. Houk in third year of four-year agreement.

Bill Rigney, California—Always works on a one-year agreement. Angels have been having their troubles.

Eddie Stanky, Chicago — Despite 10-game losing streak at start, Stanky thinks White Sox still have a shot at it. Eddie's original three-year contract was extended one year last season and runs through 1969.

Jim Lemon, Washington—Rookie manager brought in from Twins' coaching staff to fill gap when Hodges moved to Mets. Club running last despite Frank Howard's sensational home run spree. Big Jim working on first half of two-year contract.

McDowell Sees Pennant After Beating White Sox

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have a winning streak of only one game but that's all Sudden Sam McDowell needed Tuesday night to predict a pennant for the Tribe.

McDowell, getting help from Stan Williams in the ninth, halted a seven-game losing streak with a 4-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

"That was the most important game of the season," said the boisterous McDowell. "Now we're ready to roll. We've got the best pitching staff in the league, the best balance and the best team.

"After all, we scored four runs tonight," continued McDowell who came out in the ninth inning because Manager Alvin Dark figured he was tiring. "That's almost unbelievable."

Sam was right because the four runs scored in the sixth represented the biggest inning the Indians have had since June 2, a span of 153 innings.

McDowell had thrown over 175 pitches in the eight innings he worked but claimed he really wasn't tired when Dark decided to let Williams finish.

"When you're as big and as dumb and as strong as I am," said McDowell, "you never get tired."

McDowell, boosting his record to 7-5, had a four hit shutout going until the eighth when the Sox scored a run on a walk and a pair of singles. Two other walks, a hit batsman and two errors forced him to work harder than usual.

Dark stil lcouldn't believe the Indians had gone through a seven-game losing streak.

"We lost four straight earlier in the season and I figured it just couldn't happen again," said Dark, "not with this staff. You see, I have so much confidence in our five starters that I figure in every rotation of the five we should get one shutout.

The Indians didn't exactly rip the cover off the ball in their big inning. They got three walks an infield hit, a suicide squeeze a wild pitch and finally a solid, two-run single by Max Alvis.

Trevino Will Miss Canadian Open Golf

TORONTO (AP) — An aura of mystery surrounded the disappearance of Lee Trevino from the scene of the Canadian Open Golf Championship Tuesday morning and became more bewildering later in the day.

Trevino, of El Paso, Tex., was reported to have withdrawn from the 72-hole tournament because of the serious illness of his daughter. It was later learned, however, the child had only a slight cold and Trevino wanted time to review a series of financial offers received following his U.S. Open victory.

Trevino said he will rejoin the PGA tour in two weeks for the Cleveland Open.

His name has been withdrawn from the list of 147 professionals and three amateurs in the Open, which carries total prize money of $125,000 and a first-place purse of $25,000.

Three other withdrawals were also announced before the starting draw was completed Tuesday. U.S. professionals Bob Goalby and Gay Brewer decided not to play. Goalby is suffering from a shoulder injury and Brewer's daughter was reported to be undergoing surgery.

Practically every big-name golfer on the U.S. circuit is here for the tournament over the par-70, 6,792-yard St. George's Golf Club layout.

Billy Casper played an 18-hole practice round Tuesday, although he did not keep score. Arnold Palmer arrived late in the day and played 11 holes—the first 10 and the 18th. Jack Nicklaus was scheduled to arrive today.

Also here are three-time winner Sam Snead, two-time winners Doug Ford and Jim Ferrier, Gary Player of South Africa and Tony Jacklin of England.

The U.S. Open golf champion returned to this border city of 350,000 persons and a rousing welcome from a crowd of about 600 Tuesday.

For 15 minutes he wasn't the gay caballero who sprang into the golf limelight Sunday by winning the U.S. Open—his first tournament victory after a year on the tour.

After he stepped off his airplane at the El Paso airport and embraced his wife he pulled a green handkerchief from his jet-black sport coat and wiped off the tears he couldn't keep back.

After he won the $30,000 first place prize money, Trevino told newsmen he was going to buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico.

But the crowd of 600, including a mariachi band stringing and trumpeting snappy Mexican songs, knocked the brashness from him.

"Oh, it feels great to be home. I wish I could stay. . .," he said as men, women and children swarmed around him handing out congratulations and seeking autographs.

After the excitement had died down, the 28-year-old Mexican-American, who only two years ago worked for $30 a week in lesson fees at nearby Horizon Hills Country Club, once again started reeling off his wisecracks.

"As you know it was Fathers Day and my wife didn't give me anything, so I had to give myself something," he said about the Open victory.

Trevino said he will bypass this week's Canadian Open to rest, see his family and review financial offers in connection with his new-found stardom.

He said he will rejoin the PGA tour in the Cleveland Open next week, follow up with the Buick pen in Detroit and cross the Atlantic for the British Open.

Most Managers Seen Safe Despite Recent Firings

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that Grady Hatton and Gene Mauch have walked the plank, the baseball vultures are wondering who will be the next to go.

With four new jobs opening up next season at Montreal, Kansas City, Seattle and San Diego, the job possibilities are brighter than usual.

Mauch already has been mentioned in some circles as a possibility for San Diego and Joe Adcock, let out last year at Cleveland, is supposed to be set to move up with Seattle from minors to majors.

Taking the Tuesday morning standings as a guide, here is a rundown on the status of the current managerial crop:

National League

Red Schoendienst, St. Louis—Working on a one-year contract despite leading the Cards to the world championship last fall. Red Birds leading the league by a comfortable margin despite serious slumps by key hitters.

Luman Harris, Atlanta—Hired to succeed Billy Hitchcock last fall. Long time confidante of Paul Richards, the vice president in charge of baseball operations. Has Braves in race and should be secure.

Herman Franks, San Francisco—Has best winning record of any manager in the league with three straight second place finishes. Operates on year-to-year basis. In strong position to finish second again unless Cards falter.

Walter Alston, Los Angeles—Walter almost goes with the franchise. In his 15th year as Dodger skipper. Thanks to Don Drysdale has club in race and will continue to get new contracts as long as he wants them.

Bob Skinner, Philadelphia—Just arrived from San Diego with job assured through 1969 and fine minor league record to back him up.

Leo Durocher, Chicago—They tore up his original three-year contract and gave him a new two-year deal that runs through 1969. Under Leo the Cubs have looked more like a ball club although not up to startling surprises of last summer.

Gil Hodges, New York—Could be manager of the year. In first year of three-year contract running through 1970, he has pulled the Mets out of basement while developing fine young pitching staff.

Dave Bristol, Cincinnati—Sore-armed pitching staff that forced him to shuffle starting roation has contributed to slow start. A solid baseball man wih extensive minor league experience, he is set through 1969.

Larry Shepard, Pittsburgh—Organization man whose main job was to be straightening out pitching staff. Found club's best hitters in puzzling slump but beginning to find old spark. Given one-year contract when hired last fall to succeed Harry Walker.

Harry Walker, Houston—Back again after a brief period as batting instructor for the Astros. Was the available man when last-place situation made Grady Hatton expendable.

American League

Mayo Smith, Detroit—Just missed last year and threatens to run away with it this time. Got a two-year contract when he took over for the late Chuck Dressen at the end of 1966 season.

Hank Bauer, Baltimore—Working on second half of two-year deal after Orioles won 1966 pennant. Injuries and illness of Frank Robinson and troubles with pitching have made it tough to close in on Tigers.

Alvin Dark, Cleveland — Until Tribe fell into losing tailspin was able to hang in race. Still within striking distance. Brought in by Gabe Paul as successor to Joe Adcock last October and given two-year contract.

Cal Ermer, Minnesota—Made big move with Twins last year after taking over from Sam Mele but club has played in spurts this year. In keeping with Calvin Griffith's new policy, all contracts one year.

Dick Williams, Boston—Nothing to worry about with a three-year contract running through 1970. Jim Lonborg's injury and loss of Tony Conigliaro have hurt.

Bob Kennedy, Oakland—A's have done better than most people expected in his first year of two-year deal. Flirting with the .500 mark and comfortably removed from cellar.

Ralph Houk, New York—Another club doing a little better than anticipated despite absence of Al Downing for many weeks and early injury to Joe Pepitone. Houk in third year of four-year agreement.

Eddie Stanky, Chicago — Despite 10-game losing streak at start, Stanky thinks White Sox still have a shot at it. Eddie's original three-year contract was extended one year last season and runs through 1969.

Jim Lemon, Washington—Rookie manager brought in from Twins' coaching staff to fill gap when Hodges moved to Mets. Club running last despite Frank Howard's sensational home run spree. Big Jim working on first half of two-year contract.

French Yachtsman Missing In Atlantic

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP) — Ships and aircraft scoured the Atlantic today for a French yachtsman drifting in a rubber dinghy after abandoning his yacht on the singlehanded trans - Atlantic race.

As the search went on, bitter argument was revived among yachtsmen over multi-hulled craft, many saying they're unsafe.

Jean De Kat, 27, messaged Tuesday that he was abandoning his 50-foot trimaran Yaksha in heavy seas about 600 miles west of Ireland. He reported his mast and rudder were broken and one of the yacht's three parallel hulls was torn away.

Weather ships, freighters, the 25,000-ton liner Empress of Britain and British Atlantic Patrol lanes from Northern Ireland converged on the spot. The first report of wreckage came from the Dutton, a U.S. Navy ballistic missile support ship which has the latest search and navigational aids.

Search experts directing the Royal Air Force's Shackleton Patrol planes rated De Kat's survival chance as good provided visibility held and he had been able to get his dinghy's cover up.

Their great virtue is speed. Even in moderate breezes a multihull can reach up to 20 knots because instead of heeling it stays upright and the sails catch up in the wind.

But in heavy weather the risk of capsize is high and the strain on the bridge between the parallel hulls immense.

Conventional yachts, though their speed seldom exceeds 10 knots, are less prone to capsize. Even if they are knocked down by squalls their heavy ballast keels are usually enough to right them again.

John Pymun, technical secretary of the Royal Yachting Association, said:

"The traditional yacht may break its mast and rigging when it capsizes but it usually rights itself and leaves its crew with some shelter and control.

"But a cat or a tri in the same situation will probably stay upside down and break up. These beasts are ultimately unstable if pushed to the extreme."

Losses among multihull enthusiasts have been heavy. Arthur Piver, leading American designer, disappeared in a trimaran while qualifying for the current race. South African designer Tom Corkhill was lost in the South Atlantic two years ago.

The race, sponsored by the London Observer newspaper, started from Plymouth, England, June. Leaders are expected to reach Newport, R.I., within the next 10 days.

Don Canham In Top Post At Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The University of Michigan promoted Dave Martin to head track and field coach today to take over July 1 when Don Canham steps up to succeed retiring H.O. "Fritz" Crisler as athletic director.

The university also announced appointment of its first Negro to a varsity-level coaching job, naming Ken Burnley, a former Wolverine sprinter, as an assistant to Martin, who was elevated from assistant to the head coaching job.

Also named as an assistant to Martin was Jack Harvey, two-time Big Ten shotput champion.

At nearby Kalamazoo, meanwhile, Western Michigan University announced selection of two Negroes among three new varsity assistant coaches to be recommended to the board of trustees Friday.

Negro students at both universities had demanded appointment of Negro coaches in demonstrations staged on the two campuses in recent weeks.

Bengals Plan Broadcasting Network

CINCINNATI (AP) — Representatives of 33 Avco Broadcasting Corp. stations in four states met Tuesday with officials of the Cincinnati Bengals to discuss broadcast plans for the new American Football League club.

Charles Murdock, Avco vice president and general manager told the luncheon meeting his network now has 33 stations which will broadcast the games and said he plans to increase the number to 50.

In outlining team prospects, Bengals' Coach - Manager Paul Brown said the recent signing of Tennessee's center Bob Johnson and purchase of quarterback John Stofa from Miami would prove to be foundations of the professional team.

"Once you get the pillars you start building around them. The kicking game comes next and we think we have that," he said.

Grinning as he reminded the group that Cincinnati is an expansion club, he said: "We probably are going to have to kick a lot so it was high priority.

Approximately 17,500 season tickets for 1968 Bengals games have been sold so far — the greatest number ever sold by an AFL team in its first year, according to Brown.

The umpire called the game at the end of five innings because the winner had such a big lead — an eight-run lead is the league rule for calling it quits after five.

Duffield had a grand slam home run and two other hits in four times at bat. Ensinger with three hits and Pavelko with a homer also gave pitcher Jerry Cannon plenty of help.

Graebner Upsets Pro Fred Stolle

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP) — Clark Graebner, the bespectacled tennis star from New York City is tuning up his big service—the weapon that could take the United States to the Challenge round of the Davis Cup.

The 24-year-old American pulled off the big upset of the London Grass Court Championships Tuesday and defeated Australian professional Fred Stolle 6-4, 11-9.

Stolle just couldn't find an answer to Graebner's booming service. The Australian managed only 19 points in Graebner's 25 service games.

If Spain wins the European "A" zone of the Davis Cup it will have to face the United States on a concrete court at Cleveland, Ohio. Then it will be Manuel Santana's turn to face Graebner's service.

Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., nonplaying captain of the American team, said: "I have no compunction about playing the Inter-zone finals on a fast court. In Clark Graebner and Arthur Ashe we have the players to take advantage of it.

The Spanish team, led by Santana, has yet to overcome Italy in the European Zone finals. If Italy should win, the United States would have to play the Italians in Rome. But the experts think it will be Spain.

Ashe, of Richmond, Va. was defeated by Tom Okker of The Netherlands 1-6, 6-3, 6-4 Tuesday. Another J.S. Davis Cup star, Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., lost to Australia's Bill Bowrey 6-4, 6-3.

French Yachtsman Missing In Atlantic

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP) — Ships and aircraft scoured the Atlantic today for a French yachtsman drifting in a rubber dinghy after abandoning his yacht on the singlehanded trans - Atlantic race.

As the search went on, bitter argument was revived among yachtsmen over multi-hulled craft, many saying they're unsafe.

Jean De Kat, 27, messaged Tuesday that he was abandoning his 50-foot trimaran Yaksha in heavy seas about 600 miles west of Ireland. He reported his mast and rudder were broken and one of the yacht's three parallel hulls was torn away.

Weather ships, freighters, the 25,000-ton liner Empress of Britain and British Atlantic Patrol lanes from Northern Ireland converged on the spot. The first report of wreckage came from the Dutton, a U.S. Navy ballistic missile support ship which has the latest search and navigational aids.

Search experts directing the Royal Air Force's Shackleton Patrol planes rated De Kat's survival chance as good provided visibility held and he had been able to get his dinghy's cover up.

Their great virtue is speed. Even in moderate breezes a multihull can reach up to 20 knots because instead of heeling it stays upright and the sails catch up in the wind.

But in heavy weather the risk of capsize is high and the strain on the bridge between the parallel hulls immense.

Conventional yachts, though their speed seldom exceeds 10 knots, are less prone to capsize. Even if they are knocked down by squalls their heavy ballast keels are usually enough to right them again.

John Pymun, technical secretary of the Royal Yachting Association, said:

"The traditional yacht may break its mast and rigging when it capsizes but it usually rights itself and leaves its crew with some shelter and control.

"But a cat or a tri in the same situation will probably stay upside down and break up. These beasts are ultimately unstable if pushed to the extreme."

Losses among multihull enthusiasts have been heavy. Arthur Piver, leading American designer, disappeared in a trimaran while qualifying for the current race. South African designer Tom Corkhill was lost in the South Atlantic two years ago.

The race, sponsored by the London Observer newspaper, started from Plymouth, England, June. Leaders are expected to reach Newport, R.I., within the next 10 days.

Don Canham In Top Post At Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The University of Michigan promoted Dave Martin to head track and field coach today to take over July 1 when Don Canham steps up to succeed retiring H.O. "Fritz" Crisler as athletic director.

The university also announced appointment of its first Negro to a varsity-level coaching job, naming Ken Burnley, a former Wolverine sprinter, as an assistant to Martin, who was elevated from assistant to the head coaching job.

Also named as an assistant to Martin was Jack Harvey, two-time Big Ten shotput champion.

At nearby Kalamazoo, meanwhile, Western Michigan University announced selection of two Negroes among three new varsity assistant coaches to be recommended to the board of trustees Friday.

Negro students at both universities had demanded appointment of Negro coaches in demonstrations staged on the two campuses in recent weeks.

Bengals Plan Broadcasting Network

CINCINNATI (AP) — Representatives of 33 Avco Broadcasting Corp. stations in four states met Tuesday with officials of the Cincinnati Bengals to discuss broadcast plans for the new American Football League club.

Charles Murdock, Avco vice president and general manager told the luncheon meeting his network now has 33 stations which will broadcast the games and said he plans to increase the number to 50.

In outlining team prospects, Bengals' Coach - Manager Paul Brown said the recent signing of Tennessee's center Bob Johnson and purchase of quarterback John Stofa from Miami would prove to be foundations of the professional team.

"Once you get the pillars you start building around them. The kicking game comes next and we think we have that," he said.

Grinning as he reminded the group that Cincinnati is an expansion club, he said: "We probably are going to have to kick a lot so it was high priority.

Approximately 17,500 season tickets for 1968 Bengals games have been sold so far — the greatest number ever sold by an AFL team in its first year, according to Brown.

Wellsville Wins Softball Contest

LISBON — Wellsville Appliance beat Albco Foundry 18-4 Monday night in softball action at Pine Tree Inn Field.

The umpire called the game at the end of five innings because the winner had such a big lead — an eight-run lead is the league rule for calling it quits after five.

Duffield had a grand slam home run and two other hits in four times at bat. Ensinger with three hits and Pavelko with a homer also gave pitcher Jerry Cannon plenty of help.

Ellwood City Wins WPIAL Baseball Title

The only scoring came in the fifth inning on a bases-loaded single by Dave Blazin. It ruined a strong four-hit performance by Waynesburg's Karl King.

The championship is the second for Ellwood City. They won in 1962 with a 4-1 win over McKeesport.

In the fifth, King walked Rick Smith who went to second on Wayne Thornhill's bloop single down the left field line. Ray Smith walked and Blazin's slow roller over to the right side of the mound scored the run.

Coach Bill Spellman, who steered the Wolverines to both titles, said, "We made enough mistakes that I thought we'd give the game away. We had King in position to break it open a couple of times, but he was tough."

Ellwood City, representing Section 6, finished with a 14-0 record in WPIAL play, a 27-2 record for the season.

Waynesburg, representing Section 16 and making its first appearance in the championship, finished with a 15-1 WPIAL record and a 19-1 overall record.

Canadians Still Love Arnie Palmer

TORONTO (AP) — A disastrous performance in the U.S. open that included a round of 79 has not diminished Arnold Palmer's image in this city where he posted his first major victory in the Canadian Open in 1955.

Palmer arrived here Tuesday to practice for this year's Open, scheduled for Thursday through Sunday, and at least 200 admirers were on hand.

Someone asked Palmer if he would have preferred to drop out of the U.S. Open for the final round in which he shot 79.

"Hell, yes. I could think of 80 things I'd rather have done than play that final round," he said. "But I felt it was the best thing for myself and for the game of golf to keep going."

He said his troublesome hip isn't bothering him much at the moment and he intends to play for the next few weeks before going overseas for the British Open.

He said he is hitting the ball well, but his putting is rusty.

"When one part of your game is weak, you push the other parts," he said. "Before you know it, the whole ball of wax is out of kilter."

Columbus Drops Pair, Toledo 1st

By The Associated Press

If the Louisville Colonels could pitch Galen Cisco more, they'd probably be leading the International League.

The former Ohio State athlete turned in still another sterling performance with a 2-0 victory Tuesday night over Rochester to salvage a split for the Colonels, who dropped a 7-2 verdict in the opener.

The Toledo Mud Hens, meanwhile, regained the league lead with a 5-2 victory over the Jacksonville Mets while the Columbus Jets were bowing to last-place Syracuse twice, both times by 4-3. Richmond's Braves whipped Buffalo in both games of a twin bill, 2-1 and 4-3.

Cisco gave up just three hits Tuesday night as he pitched his sixth shutout of the campaign and boosted his record to 8-3. He now has given up just one run in his last two starts and has a 1.61 earned run average.

The Mud Hens scored three times in the eighth with two out on Dave Campbell's single, Bob Christian's triple, a walk and Ike Brown's two-run double. Ron Woods homered for Toledo.

Bill Heath's suicide squeeze won the opener for Syracuse over Columbus. Len Boehmer scored the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap on a double by Jim Lyttle.

Former Reds To Be Named To Club 'Hall'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Cincinnati Reds players—one a "modern," the other an "oldtimer"—will be inducted July 12 into the National League club's hall of fame.

Reds fans will select one of these by ballots to be mailed to the city's Chamber of Commerce building no later than June 29, club officials said.

One "oldtimer" who must have played at least 25 years ago will be selected by Two Cincinnati baseball writers.

TABLES TURNED. For once, the bull did not lose in a bullfight. Bullfighter Manuel Benitez (El Cordobes), recognized as one of the best bullfighters in Spain, lost his cape and sword and was unable to kill the bull in a fight in Toledo yesterday. The bullfighter was uninjured by this charge of the animal, and the bull was taken away to fight another day. (UPI Telephoto)

KC Gridder Killed In Auto Crash

URBANA, Mo. (AP) — A Kansas City Chiefs' American Football League player, attempting to get his military obligation out of the way before the start of practice sessions, was fatally injured Tuesday in a highway accident near this southwestern Missouri community.

McLenna signed with the Detroit Lions of the National Football League after graduating from Hillsdale, Mich., College. He was traded to the Baltimore Colts and the New Orleans Saints before signing with the Chiefs last year.

A Guard spokesman said McLenna had received permission to train with another unit, since his unit wouldn't go to camp until after the Chiefs' training camp opened next month.

He was enroute from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., to Camp Clark at Nevada, Mo., when his military vehicle and a civilian car sideswiped, the spokesman said.

The accident was listed as a minor accident by the Missouri Highway Patrol at first. The only visible injuries on McLenna's body were a bruise on his shoulder and a scratch on his head.

The Guard said an autopsy will be performed.

Houston Golf Favorite In NCAA Meet

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The 71st annual NCAA golf championships open today at New Mexico State University with a premium on team play.

George Hannon, coach of the University of Texas, stressed team play as the most important commodity in collegiate golf. He said it would take a unified effort by his team and golfers of other teams to beats the favored University of Houston.

Houston, with four of its five-member team that won the 1967 NCAA, seeks its 11th title since 1956 in the 72-hole tournament that concludes Saturday on the par-71, 7,098-yard course.

Joining Houston and Texas as team favorites were Florida, New Mexico State, Arizona State and Wake Forest.

Boston Releases Veteran Addison

BOSTON (AP) — Linebacker Tom Addison, co-captain and player representative of the Boston Patriots, has been given his outright release after eight years with the American Football League club.

Coach Mike Holovak announced Tuesday that Addison's option was not renewed, enabling him to become a free agent and make the best possible deal if he decides to continue his playing career.

Holovak said Dr. Thomas Dorgan, the Patriots' team physician, reported Addison would risk further knee damage as a player. Addison, 32, has undergone two operations on his left knee.

Yesterdays Stars

Tuesday's Stars

Pitching—Tom Murphy, Angels, tossed a four-hitter to win his first major league decision —a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

Batting — Pete Rose, Reds, clubbed three doubles and two singles for a 5-for-5 night in helping Cincinnati trim Atlanta 7-5.

Won Jersey Derby

Out Of The Way Picked In Massachusetts Race

BOSTON (AP) — Out of the Way, King Ranch's speedy 3-year-old colt, was ruled a slim favorite to become the fourth sophomore in history to win the Massachusetts Handicap today in the 34th running of the $61,550 classic at Suffolk Downs.

Winner of the $100,000-added Jersey Derby at nine furlongs and runnerup to Forward Pass in the Preakness, Out of the Way sought to join Menow (1938), War Relic (1941) and Fast Count (1966) as the only 3-year-old winners of the Mass Cap.

With a field of 12 probable starters and comparatively top imposts, the 1¼ mile test for 3-year-olds and up figured to be one of the most wide open races since the Mass Cap inaugural.

Such eligibles as Damascus, the 1967 horse of the year, and Dr. Fager, winner of the $250,000-added New Hampshire Sweepstakes last September, elected to pass up the Mass Cap, giving other thoroughbreds a shot.

Out of the Way got in at 112 pounds, four fewer than the top weight assigned to Rokeby Stable's Fort Marcy. Ridden by Manny Ycaza, Fort Marcy was expected to draw plenty of backing off the 4-year-old gelding's upset of Damascus in the Washington, D.C., International in 1967.

Other listed starters were Chompion and Ardoise, a couple of other 3-year-olds; Birthday Card, Big Rock Candy and local hopefuls Rabbit's Foot, Dopo and Tara Host.

Ruling Looms Later In June In Track Rift

NEW CUMBERLAND — A ruling in the injunction sought by three jockeys against Waterford Park is expected to be handed down by Judge James G. McClure later this month.

In the suit filed in Hancock County Circuit Court, the jockeys — Russell Applebee, Milton J. Dalgo and Robert Wilkerson — allege they were barred from the northern Hancock race course on written orders signed by James Edwards, president of Waterford Park. It is the contention of the jockeys "no reason was given for this action and it is contrary and in violation of the state racing statutes."

In a hearing Monday before Judge McClure, the counsel for each side spelled out and agreed upon the matters to be considered.

The plaintiffs are represented by Donald Donell of the law firm of Donell, Tarr and Delamater and contend there must be a reason advanced by the race track on why they are being barred, and not simply because Waterford Park does not want them. Further, it is contended, the sole question to be decided is whether or not the race track has a right to exclude anyone it desires even though the state has issued licenses to those persons to race.

Waterford Park represented by Atty. Frank Pietranton contends that under common law the track has this right; that is, the right to prohibit anyone it so desires from entering the grounds. Therefore, it has the right to exclude the jockeys from participating at the track. Waterford further contends it may exclude jockeys or anyone else it desires without advancing reason.

Two Minor Mishaps Occur At Wellsville

Two minor mishaps were investigated by Wellsville police Tuesday.

At 7 a. m., police were called to Anderson Ave. where a car driven by Morris T. DeSellem, 55, of 436 Main St. was rammed in the rear by a truck operated by Glen E. Nall of Pittsburgh.

The second mishap occurred at 9:45 p. m. when a car driven by Glenn W. Petty of Wellsville RD 1 struck a parked car on Wells Ave., owned by James E. Porter of 217 Wells Ave.

Petty told officers he was "crowded" into the car by approaching traffic.

Bobby Orr Plagued By Ice Injuries

BOSTON (AP) — The Bobby Orr Hockey School plans to open as scheduled at Camp Milbrook in Marshfield, Mass., Friday — without Bobby Orr.

The Boston Bruins' 20-year-old All-Star defenseman advised camp associates Tuesday he will be unable to attend because of surgery to repair cartilage damage in his left knee last week.

Orr, winner of the Norris Award as the National Hockey League's top defenseman last season, telephoned after being discharged from a Toronto hospital.

Orr, plagued by injuries in two years with the Bruins, underwent surgery on his left knee last February. He returned to the line-up late in the season. He said he re-injured the knee in the playoffs.

Ellwood City Wins WPIAL Baseball Title

The only scoring came in the fifth inning on a bases-loaded single by Dave Blazin. It ruined a strong four-hit performance by Waynesburg's Karl King.

The championship is the second for Ellwood City. They won in 1962 with a 4-1 win over McKeesport.

In the fifth, King walked Rick Smith who went to second on Wayne Thornhill's bloop single down the left field line. Ray Smith walked and Blazin's slow roller over to the right side of the mound scored the run.

Coach Bill Spellman, who steered the Wolverines to both titles, said, "We made enough mistakes that I thought we'd give the game away. We had King in position to break it open a couple of times, but he was tough."

Ellwood City, representing Section 6, finished with a 14-0 record in WPIAL play, a 27-2 record for the season.

Waynesburg, representing Section 16 and making its first appearance in the championship, finished with a 15-1 WPIAL record and a 19-1 overall record.

Canadians Still Love Arnie Palmer

TORONTO (AP) — A disastrous performance in the U.S. open that included a round of 79 has not diminished Arnold Palmer's image in this city where he posted his first major victory in the Canadian Open in 1955.

Palmer arrived here Tuesday to practice for this year's Open, scheduled for Thursday through Sunday, and at least 200 admirers were on hand.

Someone asked Palmer if he would have preferred to drop out of the U.S. Open for the final round in which he shot 79.

"Hell, yes. I could think of 80 things I'd rather have done than play that final round," he said. "But I felt it was the best thing for myself and for the game of golf to keep going."

He said his troublesome hip isn't bothering him much at the moment and he intends to play for the next few weeks before going overseas for the British Open.

He said he is hitting the ball well, but his putting is rusty.

"When one part of your game is weak, you push the other parts," he said. "Before you know it, the whole ball of wax is out of kilter."

Columbus Drops Pair, Toledo 1st

By The Associated Press

If the Louisville Colonels could pitch Galen Cisco more, they'd probably be leading the International League.

The former Ohio State athlete turned in still another sterling performance with a 2-0 victory Tuesday night over Rochester to salvage a split for the Colonels, who dropped a 7-2 verdict in the opener.

The Toledo Mud Hens, meanwhile, regained the league lead with a 5-2 victory over the Jacksonville Mets while the Columbus Jets were bowing to last-place Syracuse twice, both times by 4-3. Richmond's Braves whipped Buffalo in both games of a twin bill, 2-1 and 4-3.

Cisco gave up just three hits Tuesday night as he pitched his sixth shutout of the campaign and boosted his record to 8-3. He now has given up just one run in his last two starts and has a 1.61 earned run average.

The Mud Hens scored three times in the eighth with two out on Dave Campbell's single, Bob Christian's triple, a walk and Ike Brown's two-run double. Ron Woods homered for Toledo.

Bill Heath's suicide squeeze won the opener for Syracuse over Columbus. Len Boehmer scored the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap on a double by Jim Lyttle.

Former Reds To Be Named To Club 'Hall'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Cincinnati Reds players—one a "modern," the other an "oldtimer"—will be inducted July 12 into the National League club's hall of fame.

Reds fans will select one of these by ballots to be mailed to the city's Chamber of Commerce building no later than June 29, club officials said.

One "oldtimer" who must have played at least 25 years ago will be selected by Two Cincinnati baseball writers.

TABLES TURNED. For once, the bull did not lose in a bullfight. Bullfighter Manuel Benitez (El Cordobes), recognized as one of the best bullfighters in Spain, lost his cape and sword and was unable to kill the bull in a fight in Toledo yesterday. The bullfighter was uninjured by this charge of the animal, and the bull was taken away to fight another day. (UPI Telephoto)

KC Gridder Killed In Auto Crash

URBANA, Mo. (AP) — A Kansas City Chiefs' American Football League player, attempting to get his military obligation out of the way before the start of practice sessions, was fatally injured Tuesday in a highway accident near this southwestern Missouri community.

McLenna signed with the Detroit Lions of the National Football League after graduating from Hillsdale, Mich., College. He was traded to the Baltimore Colts and the New Orleans Saints before signing with the Chiefs last year.

A Guard spokesman said McLenna had received permission to train with another unit, since his unit wouldn't go to camp until after the Chiefs' training camp opened next month.

He was enroute from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., to Camp Clark at Nevada, Mo., when his military vehicle and a civilian car sideswiped, the spokesman said.

The accident was listed as a minor accident by the Missouri Highway Patrol at first. The only visible injuries on McLenna's body were a bruise on his shoulder and a scratch on his head.

The Guard said an autopsy will be performed.

Houston Golf Favorite In NCAA Meet

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The 71st annual NCAA golf championships open today at New Mexico State University with a premium on team play.

George Hannon, coach of the University of Texas, stressed team play as the most important commodity in collegiate golf. He said it would take a unified effort by his team and golfers of other teams to beats the favored University of Houston.

Houston, with four of its five-member team that won the 1967 NCAA, seeks its 11th title since 1956 in the 72-hole tournament that concludes Saturday on the par-71, 7,098-yard course.

Joining Houston and Texas as team favorites were Florida, New Mexico State, Arizona State and Wake Forest.

Boston Releases Veteran Addison

BOSTON (AP) — Linebacker Tom Addison, co-captain and player representative of the Boston Patriots, has been given his outright release after eight years with the American Football League club.

Coach Mike Holovak announced Tuesday that Addison's option was not renewed, enabling him to become a free agent and make the best possible deal if he decides to continue his playing career.

Holovak said Dr. Thomas Dorgan, the Patriots' team physician, reported Addison would risk further knee damage as a player. Addison, 32, has undergone two operations on his left knee.

Yesterdays Stars

Tuesday's Stars

Pitching—Tom Murphy, Angels, tossed a four-hitter to win his first major league decision —a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

Batting — Pete Rose, Reds, clubbed three doubles and two singles for a 5-for-5 night in helping Cincinnati trim Atlanta 7-5.

Out Of The Way Picked In Massachusetts Race

BOSTON (AP) — Out of the Way, King Ranch's speedy 3-year-old colt, was ruled a slim favorite to become the fourth sophomore in history to win the Massachusetts Handicap today in the 34th running of the $61,550 classic at Suffolk Downs.

Winner of the $100,000-added Jersey Derby at nine furlongs and runnerup to Forward Pass in the Preakness, Out of the Way sought to join Menow (1938), War Relic (1941) and Fast Count (1966) as the only 3-year-old winners of the Mass Cap.

With a field of 12 probable starters and comparatively top imposts, the 1¼ mile test for 3-year-olds and up figured to be one of the most wide open races since the Mass Cap inaugural.

Such eligibles as Damascus, the 1967 horse of the year, and Dr. Fager, winner of the $250,000-added New Hampshire Sweepstakes last September, elected to pass up the Mass Cap, giving other thoroughbreds a shot.

Out of the Way got in at 112 pounds, four fewer than the top weight assigned to Rokeby Stable's Fort Marcy. Ridden by Manny Ycaza, Fort Marcy was expected to draw plenty of backing off the 4-year-old gelding's upset of Damascus in the Washington, D.C., International in 1967.

Other listed starters were Champion and Ardoise, a couple of other 3-year-olds; Birthday Card, Big Rock Candy and local hopefuls Rabbit's Foot, Dopo and Tara Host.

Ruling Looms Later In June In Track Rift

NEW CUMBERLAND — A ruling in the injunction sought by three jockeys against Waterford Park is expected to be handed down by Judge James G. McClure later this month.

In the suit filed in Hancock County Circuit Court, the jockeys — Russell Applebee, Milton J. Dalgo and Robert Wilkerson — allege they were barred from the northern Hancock race course on written orders signed by James Edwards, president of Waterford Park. It is the contention of the jockeys "no reason was given for this action and it is contrary and in violation of the state racing statutes."

In a hearing Monday before Judge McClure, the counsel for each side spelled out and agreed upon the matters to be considered.

The plaintiffs are represented by Donald Donell of the law firm of Donell, Tarr and Delamater and contend there must be a reason advanced by the race track on why they are being barred, and not simply because Waterford Park does not want them. Further, it is contended, the sole question to be decided is whether or not the race track has a right to exclude anyone it desires even though the state has issued licenses to those persons to race.

Waterford Park represented by Atty. Frank Pietranton contends that under common law the track has this right; that is, the right to prohibit anyone it so desires from entering the grounds. Therefore, it has the right to exclude the jockeys from participating at the track. Waterford further contends it may exclude jockeys or anyone else it desires without advancing reason.

Two Minor Mishaps Occur At Wellsville

Two minor mishaps were investigated by Wellsville police Tuesday.

At 7 a. m., police were called to Anderson Ave. where a car driven by Morris T. DeSellem, 55, of 436 Main St. was rammed in the rear by a truck operated by Glen E. Nall of Pittsburgh.

The second mishap occurred at 9:45 p. m. when a car driven by Glenn W. Petty of Wellsville RD 1 struck a parked car on Wells Ave., owned by James E. Porter of 217 Wells Ave.

Petty told officers he was "crowded" into the car by approaching traffic.

Bobby Orr Plagued By Ice Injuries

BOSTON (AP) — The Bobby Orr Hockey School plans to open as scheduled at Camp Milbrook in Marshfield, Mass., Friday — without Bobby Orr.

The Boston Bruins' 20-year-old All-Star defenseman advised camp associates Tuesday he will be unable to attend because of surgery to repair cartilage damage in his left knee last week.

Orr, winner of the Norris Award as the National Hockey League's top defenseman last season, telephoned after being discharged from a Toronto hospital.

Orr, plagued by injuries in two years with the Bruins, underwent surgery on his left knee last February. He returned to the line-up late in the season. He said he re-injured the knee in the playoffs.

Suite 3327 Of Senate Building

Staff Of Bobby Kennedy Getting Many Job Offers

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Suite 3327 of the New Senate Office Building, the stacks of neatly labeled cartons are growing higher. Someday all the papers and books will be packed. Then the people who work there will have to leave.

But they don't like to think about that day.

"Our lives were always predicated on his needs," she said. "We're not ready to start thinking about pounding the pavement looking for jobs. We're not even ready to accept the reality that we'll have to go to work somewhere else."

Since Robert Kennedy died from an assassin's bullet on June 6—two weeks ago Thursday—more than 100 offers of employment for his staff have been received at the Senate office. In addition, many members of Congress have offered jobs to individual staff members.

So far, none of the offers has been accepted.

"I worked for a man in whom I believed totally," said Hugh McDonald, an assistant press aide. "Now there's this void. I feel so empty. I just couldn't go to work for anybody else now."

There has been speculation this week that Kennedy's chief press aide, Frank Mankiewicz, would oppose Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles in that city's 1970 election. Mankiewicz said in an interview that "friends" had suggested it to him.

"I find it very flattering," he said. "But I haven't begun to think about that sort of thing. I certainly don't turn it down out of hand but it's much too early to make any decision."

Administrative assistant Joe Dolan and legislative assistant Peter Edelman aren't thinking about the future yet, nor is speech writer Adam Walinsky.

"I worked for Bob Kennedy," Walinsky said. "It was intensely personal. I couldn't do it for anyone else. I don't think it could ever be the same with anyone else. I just don't know what I'll do."

Kennedy's personal secretary of 11 years, Angie Novello, spends most of her days going through books and papers.

"I want to make sure that everything is all sorted out right so that if anything is ever done with them, they'll be in order," she said.

She too has given very little thought to another job.

In Kennedy's private office, there is a box of papers on the tan leather couch labeled: "RFK handwritten misc notes. Lady Harlech's funeral. Christening of the USS John F. Kennedy. Letters to and from Fred Dutton '65-'68. Letters to and from J. K. Galbraith '65-'68. Letters to and from White House."

Nobody has yet removed the big red and white valentine that is propped up on the window ledge. It reads, "To Bobby: The best godfather on Valentine's Day." It is from Caroline Kennedy, the late President John F. Kennedy's daughter.

The carnival will continue through Saturday, June 29. The annual firemen's parde is set Friday, June 28.

Suite 3327 Of Senate Building

Staff Of Bobby Kennedy Getting Many Job Offers

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Suite 3327 of the New Senate Office Building, the stacks of neatly labeled cartons are growing higher. Someday all the papers and books will be packed. Then the people who work there will have to leave.

But they don't like to think about that day.

For members of Robert F. Kennedy's Senate staff, ties with the past are still too strong to permit intrusion by thoughts of the future.

Melody Miller is a receptionist in Suite 3327. She had worked for Kennedy since his election in 1964.

"Our lives were always predicated on his needs," she said. "We're not ready to start thinking about pounding the pavement looking for jobs. We're not even ready to accept the reality that we'll have to go to work somewhere else."

Since Robert Kennedy died from an assassin's bullet on June 6—two weeks ago Thursday—more than 100 offers of employment for his staff have been received at the Senate office. In addition, many members of Congress have offered jobs to individual staff members.

So far, none of the offers has been accepted.

"I worked for a man in whom I believed totally," said Hugh McDonald, an assistant press aide. "Now there's this void. I feel so empty. I just couldn't go to work for anybody else now."

There has been speculation this week that Kennedy's chief press aide, Frank Mankiewicz, would oppose Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles in that city's 1970 election. Mankiewicz said in an interview that "friends" had suggested it to him.

"I find it very flattering," he said. "But I haven't begun to think about that sort of thing. I certainly don't turn it down out of hand but it's much too early to make any decision."

Administrative assistant Joe Dolan and legislative assistant Peter Edelman aren't thinking about the future yet, nor is speech writer Adam Walinsky.

"I worked for Bob Kennedy," Walinsky said. "It was intensely personal. I couldn't do it for anyone else. I don't think it could ever be the same with anyone else. I just don't know what I'll do."

Kennedy's personal secretary of 11 years, Angie Novello, spends most of her days going through books and papers.

"I want to make sure that everything is all sorted out right so that if anything is ever done with them, they'll be in order," she said.

She too has given very little thought to another job.

In Kennedy's private office, there is a box of papers on the tan leather couch labeled: "RFK handwritten misc notes. Lady Harlech's funeral. Christening of the USS John F. Kennedy. Letters to and from Fred Dutton '65-'68. Letters to and from J. K. Galbraith '65-'68. Letters to and from White House."

Nobody has yet removed the big red and white valentine that is propped up on the window ledge. It reads, "To Bobby: The best godfather on Valentine's Day." It is from Caroline Kennedy, the late President John F. Kennedy's daughter.

When the private telephone rings from the Capitol switchboard, nobody answers. They all know it's just a wrong number.

Rescue Devices Needed

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Every time I read of a mine disaster I wonder why, in this age of scientific and technological miracles, no one has bothered to come up with up-to-date techniques for mine rescue work.

When I read of a mine cave-in I say to myself, "Maybe NOW someone will develop some new lifesaving equipment."

As of this moment there is nothing in sight.

We know there are heat shields to keep out excessive heat and one-man subs that go under water. It seems to me that someone coould put the two concepts together and make a capsule that could crawl through fire and water and gas and bring the men out one at a time or hook capsules together and bring out several victims.

Why haven't the large companies done anything about this? What's the matter with the government? A government-owned mine rescue agency could fly the capsules and operators anywhere in the country. If we have 95 billion to spend on a war we should be able to find the money to develop some 20th-century equipment which would save untold numbers of lives. —OREGON READER.

Dear Oregon: I don't know the answer but I will be happy to publish a response from someone who does. How about it out there?

1-14 PRETTY BOY .....

Dear Ann: My boy friend is just too darned handsome for his own good. I'm 18 and Abner is 19. His good looks have been dealing me a fit ever since we started to go steady. I can't figure out how much of it is his fault.

Whenever we go to a park or to a dance the girls fall all over Abner. To make matters worse, he's a marvelous dancer and girls come up and cut me so they can dance with him.

It's nice to have a handsome boy friend but I'm beginning to think I'd be better off with someone who wasn't such a traffic-stopper. What do you suggest?—DARIEN.

Dear Darien: Why don't you just put a gunny sack over Abner's head so the girls can't see how handsome he is: And then you could break his leg so he can't dance. For a girl 18 you're a real ding-a-ling.

There's nothing wrong with having a handsome boy friend. What you need is confidence. Stop thinking about Abner's looks and be a loose-hanger.

Dear Ann: In Gensis 2:18 God says, "It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a help meet for him."

St. Paul's attitude toward marriage is quite different. He says, "To the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I. But if they cannot contain, let them marry" (1 Corinthians 7:8.9).

Recently in your column you apoligized for confusing the two. For you to have confused the quotations is understandable. I cannot understand, however, the flippant remark which followed your apology.

You said, "I'll take 10 lashes with an old prayer shawl." You would not have said, "I'll take 10 lashes with a wet American flag" or, "I'll take 10 lashes with a second-hand rosary," would you?

—A FRIENDLY PASTOR IN CHARLOTTE.

Dear Pastor: My apoligies if I offended you or your people. Your stationery indicates you are a rabbi. Your people happen to be my people, also. And perhaps this is why I said "prayer shawl" and not "rosary." I'm less sensitive about a symbol of my own religion. Never thought I'd have to apologize for an apology, but here it is.

Heart Trouble Linked To Four Risk Factors

There are four major risk factors which contribute to coronary diseases, Dr. Douglas Ford, specialist in internal medicine at Toledo City Hospital, told members of the Rotary Club during a luncheon Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Ford, president of the Northwest Ohio Heart Association, listed the factors as smoking, overweight, high blood pressure and blood cholesterol. The first two can be self - controlled, he said, and the last two can be treated by a doctor.

THEREFORE, he continued, everyone can do a lot to prevent or at least reduce the possibility of coronary trouble.

A simplified description of the heart is that it is a hollow muscular organ, Ford explained.

Blood is necessary for body tissue to live, the doctor pointed out. And since the coronaries are the source of blood, there is no alternate supply for their own tissue should the prime source be cut off, interrupted or retarded in some way. Therefore, such situations result in damage to the coronary tissue. These incidents frequently result in scars on the coronaries.

CORONARY diseases are more common in men in the 30-50 age group than in women of that age, Ford pointed out. The reason is not certain, he added.

"We are the major cause of coronary diseases," Ford concluded.

During the business session, Frank Dawson, president, appointed G. Thomas Babb chairman in charge of arrangements for members to attend the Golf Stag July 26 sponsored by the Alliance Rotary Club.

City Will Provide Storage Spot For Disaster Hospital

Mayor George E. Willshaw today received a letter of thanks from an Ohio Health Department official after the city agreed to provide storage space at its East End equipment barn for a "packaged disaster hospital" that would be set up for operation in a disaster or national emergency.

The letter was signed by Leonard Swartz, health mobilization consultant for the state agency. He added that Miss Nell Robinson, City Hospital administrator, "has agreed to affiliate with the disaster plan, enabling the Public Health Service to furnish medical supplies to sustain the hospital operation at a secondary site."

Alex Rutecki of Lisbon, county Civil Defense director, has agreed to furnish trained manpower to store, transport and set up the hospital unit, Swartz added.

He indicated the hospital unit would be set up at nearby East Junior High School in case of a disaster. The equipment includes two huge generators that would furnish power in case of an electrical failure.

Mayor George E. Willshaw today received a letter of thanks from an Ohio Health Department official after the city agreed to provide storage space at its East End equipment barn for a "packaged disaster hospital" that would be set up for operation in a disaster or national emergency.

The letter was signed by Leonard Swartz, health mobilization consultant for the state agency. He added that Miss Nell Robinson, City Hospital administrator, "has agreed to affiliate with the disaster plan, enabling the Public Health Service to furnish medical supplies to sustain the hospital operation at a secondary site."

Alex Rutecki of Lisbon, county Civil Defense director, has agreed to furnish trained manpower to store, transport and set up the hospital unit, Swartz added.

He indicated the hospital unit would be set up at nearby East Junior High School in case of a disaster. The equipment includes two huge generators that would furnish power in case of an electrical failure.

POISON-IVY IS AN ITCHY PROBLEM

The itch that follows exposure may be acquired at any time, but the peak of poison-ivy, poison-oak, or poison summac is in the spring. The poisonous sap may reach directly to the skin, by contact with the plant, or later on by way of handled shoes, clothing, tools or domestic animals.

Poison-ivy symptoms begin to appear one or two days after contact. Some people are unusually sensitive and few are entirely immune. We have some poison-ivy lotions which usually offer quick relief and we can help you choose a good product. When the eruptions are unusually severe or cover most of the body, consult your physician.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Passing The Violence Buck

Passing the buck for who's to blame for so much violence in our society is the order of the day since Sen. Robert Kennedy's assassnation.

Hal Humphrey

TV is a prime target, and not with out some justification, but one TV producer asked. "What does the President want from us when his own gun control bill is shot down by a House committee?"

Aaron Spelling, who with Danny Thomas co-produces "Guns of Will Sonnett" and the new upcoming "Mod Squad" (a police series), says, "As long as I can compete in the market I will do anything to stop violence in TV."

THIS WAS Spelling's answer to an advertisement in TV trade papers last week in which director Jerry Paris said he in no way would lend his talents to the creation of a climate for murder, and asked that all who read his announcement join him in refusing to do entertainment that "celebrates senseless brutality, aimless cruelty, pointless and violent death."

"Jerry is a great guy and I love him and what he's saying, but he's making no great sacrifice. The closest he's come to violence is directing the old Dick Van Dyke series," says Spelling.

The producers of the "Get Smart" comedy series also announced they were stripping all scenes of violence from next season's episodes, and this drew a chuckle from Spelling. It's a comedy show, he points out, and what violence there is can't be taken seriously by viewers.

IN HIS 90-minute pilot of "Mod Squad" there are one murder and two fight scenes, which he claims is minimal in that length of time. Also the three principals in the series, who are kids working under cover with the police, don't carry guns.

"This series is designed to lure some of the kids back to viewing TV, and I happen to think they've been leaving the medium in droves," says Spelling.

He plans in "Mod Squad" to do a story on the riot at Columbia University, so naturally there would be some violence in it, but not an overdoze because Spelling is convinced, he says, that kids don't want to see violence.

"Our show will be on the ABC network at 7:30 and this imposes restrictions. TV allows things at 9 and 10 p.m. that they don't allow at 7:30, which I say is a lot of bunk look at the violence in war news alone, and that's at 6 o'clock or earlier," Spelling points out.

"I WAS SHOCKED at the number of times the networks repeated the pictures of Kennedy after he'd been shot. What effect do they think that has on potential nuts?" asked Spelling.

The networks, of course, have an answer. NBC, for example, said in response to such queries, "In the news field, we seek to cover, through reporting and analysis, all devlopments in which public information is vital in a democracy, and we regard such coverage as an important part of our obligation. . . ."

What NBC is saying, of course, is what Spelling said earlier about doing anything to stop violence as long as he can still compete. NBC, in other words, isn't going to be beat by CBS or ABC in showing exactly what happened to Sen. Kennedy.

BEGINNING in 1961, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. as chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency, began hearing on sex and violence in TV which continued on and off for three years.

He concluded that TV did have an effect on our rising crime rate, and urged more stringent regulations and codes by the industry itself, or Congress would have to do something.

Nothing much was done really, and since then Sen Dodd's own image has become sullied as a result of Senate investigations into his own alleged conflict of interest operations, a fact which must have amused the network chiefs who had to testify before his subcommittee.

The fact is that hardly anyone is clean of blame for contributing somehow to the delinquency of our society. The sad part of it is that we draw comfort from this knowledge, instead of trying to rise above such criticism.

The Oral History Research Office, originated at Columbia University in 1948, collects on tape the memories and views of the great and near-great men of our time. ### Comparing Election Records

Rockefeller Now Using New Campaign 'Weapon'

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is beginning to use a new campaign weapon—comparing election records—in his effort to overtake Richard M. Nixon in the race for the Republican nomination for president.

A Rockefeller campaign placard trumpets, "He has never lost an election."

Nixon, of course, was defeated in his last two races, for president in 1960 and for governor of California in 1962.

Rockefeller cites their respective showings in heavily Democratic New York City. He said in New Jersey Tuesday that Nixon lost the city in 1960 by 791,000 votes whereas he lost it in 1966 by only 70,000.

The governor pointed out to Republican congressional leaders that in 1962, he polled 395,000 more votes than the combined total cast for New York candidates for Congress. He said Nixon, running for governor of California that year had 147,000 fewer votes than the total for congressional candidates there.

Rockefeller is elated over the results of a poll taken in another predominantly Republican city, Philadelphia, late last week. It showed him running ahead of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, 47.4 per cent to 46.3 there.

"Look at the record," Rockefeller told newsmen. "Nixon lost Philadelphia by 300,000 in 1960 and (Sen. Barry) Goldwater by 400,000 in '64."

The use of these election statistics is designed, of course, to persuade Republican delegates to the GOP national convention that Rockefeller has drawn more votes from Democrats and independents than Nixon. Since the Republicans are the minority party nationally, their candidate must do this to win the presidency in November.

After meeting with Republican senators and congressmen in Washington Tuesday, Rockefeller said, "It looks a lot better now than when I saw them the last time."

That was in 1964, when he was a candidate for the nomination for president.

"The atmosphere is different this time," he said. "You can tell when politicians are doing something out of politeness. This time I felt they were interested."

Rockefeller met with the New Jersey delegation after he left Washington. As in other such meetings, he discussed issues and answered questions.

The 40-man delegation is uncommitted. However, some New Jersey politicians said they believed 28 delegates favor Rockefeller and 12 are for Nixon.

Rockefeller takes his campaign today into Ohio—a state that could be crucial in his drive for the nomination.

It has 58 delegates. At the moment, they are united behind Gov. James A. Rhodes as the favorite son. He has said they would go to the convention uncommitted.

Passing The Violence Buck

Passing the buck for who's to blame for so much violence in our society is the order of the day since Sen. Robert Kennedy's assassnation.

Hal Humphrey

TV is a prime target, and not without some justification, but one TV producer asked. "What does the President want from us when his own gun control bill is shot down by a House committee?"

Aaron Spelling, who with Danny Thomas co-produces "Guns of Will Sonnett" and the new upcoming "Mod Squad" (a police series), says, "As long as I can compete in the market I will do anything to stop violence in TV."

THIS WAS Spelling's answer to an advertisement in TV trade papers last week in which director Jerry Paris said he in no way would lend his talents to the creation of a climate for murder, and asked that all who read his announcement join him in refusing to do entertainment that "celebrates senseless brutality, aimless cruelty, pointless and violent death."

"Jerry is a great guy and I love him and what he's saying, but he's making no great sacrifice. The closest he's come to violence is directing the old Dick Van Dyke series," says Spelling.

The producers of the "Get Smart" comedy series also announced they were stripping all scenes of violence from next season's episodes, and this drew a chuckle from Spelling. It's a comedy show, he points out, and what violence there is can't be taken seriously by viewers.

IN HIS 90-minute pilot of "Mod Squad" there are one murder and two fight scenes, which he claims is minimal in that length of time. Also the three principals in the series, who are kids working under cover with the police, don't carry guns.

"This series is designed to lure some of the kids back to viewing TV, and I happen to think they've been leaving the medium in droves," says Spelling.

He plans in "Mod Squad" to do a story on the riot at Columbia University, so naturally there would be some violence in it, but not an overdoze because Spelling is convinced, he says, that kids don't want to see violence.

"Our show will be on the ABC network at 7:30 and this imposes restrictions. TV allows things at 9 and 10 p.m. that they don't allow at 7:30, which I say is a lot of bunk look at the violence in war news alone, and that's at 6 o'clock or earlier," Spelling points out.

"I WAS SHOCKED at the number of times the networks repeated the pictures of Kennedy after he'd been shot. What effect do they think that has on potential nuts?" asked Spelling.

The networks, of course, have an answer. NBC, for example, said in response to such queries, "In the news field we seek to cover, through reporting and analysis, all devlopments in which public information is vital in a democracy, and we regard such coverage as an important part of our obligation. . . ."

What NBC is saying, of course, is what Spelling said earlier about doing anything to stop violence as long as he can still compete. NBC, in other words, isn't going to be beat by CBS or ABC in showing exactly what happened to Sen. Kennedy.

BEGINNING in 1961, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. as chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency, began hearing on sex and violence in TV which continued on and off for three years.

He concluded that TV did have an effect on our rising crime rate, and urged more stringent regulations and codes by the industry itself, or Congress would have to do something.

Nothing much was done really, and since then Sen Dodd's own image has become sullied as a result of Senate investigations into his own alleged conflict of interest operations, a fact which must have amused the network chiefs who had to testify before his subcommittee.

The fact is that hardly anyone is clean of blame for contributing somehow to the delinquency of our society. The sad part of it is that we draw comfort from this knowledge, instead of trying to rise above such criticism.

Comparing Election Records

Rockefeller Now Using New Campaign 'Weapon'

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is beginning to use a new campaign weapon—comparing election records—in his effort to overtake Richard M. Nixon in the race for the Republican nomination for president.

A Rockefeller campaign placard trumpets, "He has never lost an election."

Nixon, of course, was defeated in his last two races, for president in 1960 and for governor of California in 1962.

Rockefeller cites their respective showings in heavily Democratic New York City. He said in New Jersey Tuesday that Nixon lost the city in 1960 by 791,000 votes whereas he lost it in 1966 by only 70,000.

The governor pointed out to Republican congressional leaders that in 1962, he polled 395,000 more votes than the combined total cast for New York candidates for Congress. He said Nixon, running for governor of California that year had 147,000 fewer votes than the total for congressional candidates there.

Rockefeller is elated over the results of a poll taken in another predominantly Republican city, Philadelphia, late last week. It showed him running ahead of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, 47.4 per cent to 46.3 there.

"Look at the record," Rockefeller told newsmen. "Nixon lost Philadelphia by 300,000 in 1960 and (Sen. Barry) Goldwater by 400,000 in '64."

The use of these election statistics is designed, of course, to persuade Republican delegates to the GOP national convention that Rockefeller has drawn more votes from Democrats and independents than Nixon. Since the Republicans are the minority party nationally, their candidate must do this to win the presidency in November.

After meeting with Republican senators and congressmen in Washington Tuesday, Rockefeller said, "It looks a lot better now than when I saw them the last time."

That was in 1964, when he was a candidate for the nomination for president.

"The atmosphere is different this time," he said. "You can tell when politicians are doing something out of politeness. This time I felt they were interested."

Rockefeller met with the New Jersey delegation after he left Washington. As in other such meetings, he discussed issues and answered questions.

The 40-man delegation is uncommitted. However, some New Jersey politicians said they believed 28 delegates favor Rockefeller and 12 are for Nixon.

Rockefeller takes his campaign today into Ohio—a state that could be crucial in his drive for the nomination.

It has 58 delegates. At the moment, they are united behind Gov. James A. Rhodes as the favorite son. He has said they would go to the convention uncommitted.

Our full name is
"The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company."
But, to most, we're "A&P" for short.

Why? Well, in 1859, when A&P began, our first product was tea.
We bought full shiploads from the Orient and sold it at great savings to the public.

You learn a lot about tea in more than 100 years.

Today, you can savor the results of all that experience
by tasting one of A&P's fine tea products:
Our Own Tea Bags, for example.

Each bag contains up to 15 of the world's finest teas, from as many as 5 different countries.
It can take that many to develop our distinct blend.

So now you know why, by some, we're called
"The Tea Company."

If you'd like to know why we're called "Great,"

Firms, Union Ask Curbs On Foreign Steel

WASHINGTON — Management and labor elementh of the American steel industry have joined ranks in calling on Congress to impose quotas on foreign steel imports.

I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers of America told the House Ways and Means Committee: "It would be a disaster for Japan to be led to assume it has unlimited access to the U.S. market and then at a later date be required to curtail after its investments have been made.

"Now is the time to declare there is a limit," said Abel, "and this is the responsibility of Congress."

Thomas F. Patton, chairman of Republic Steel Corp., said unless prompt action is taken to prevent imports of steel from making all or most of the growth in domestic steel demand, severe steel shortages could develop in the event of war.

Patton testified as a representative of the American Iron and Steel Institute, which includes 67 steel companies accounting for 95 per cent of the nation's steel production.

Patton said that foreign steel imports have risen from 1.2 million tons in 1957 to 11.5 million tons in 1967. In the same period U.S. exports have dropped from 5.3 million to 1.7 million tons. He said this has had an adverse affect on the U. S. balance of trade of about $2 billion.

Foreign steel imports through the first four months of 1968 have totaled 4.8 million tons valued at $548 million, he said. He called the continued rise in imports extremely serious.

Ohio Democratic County Leaders Pick Akron Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Akron attorney Robert W. Blakemore was elected president of the Ohio Democratic County Chairmen's Association Tuesday night.

In addition to electing new officers, the association called for liberalization of the state's voter registration procedures.

A resolution, introduced by Stark County Chairman John F. Gwin of Alliance, urged the secretary of state and the legislature "to make more readily available to every eligible citizen the fullest use of the facilities of our election boards, and to extend to every community the availability of door-to-door registration."

Other officers elected were Herbert C. Wolf, Springfield, secretary for a second term; Roger F. DiPaulo, Kent, treasurer, and these four vice presidents, Nelson Humphrey, Ashtabula; Ronald K. Milleson, Freeport, George Twyford, Reynoldsburg, and Robert J. Kuhn, Lima.

Firms, Union Ask Curbs On Foreign Steel

WASHINGTON — Management and labor elementh of the American steel industry have joined ranks in calling on Congress to impose quotas on foreign steel imports.

I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers of America told the House Ways and Means Committee: "It would be a disaster for Japan to be led to assume it has unlimited access to the U.S. market and then at a later date be required to curtail after its investments have been made.

"Now is the time to declare there is a limit," said Abel, "and this is the responsibility of Congress."

Thomas F. Patton, chairman of Republic Steel Corp., said unless prompt action is taken to prevent imports of steel from making all or most of the growth in domestic steel demand, severe steel shortages could develop in the event of war.

Patton testified as a representative of the American Iron and Steel Institute, which includes 67 steel companies accounting for 95 per cent of the nation's steel production.

Patton said that foreign steel imports have risen from 1.2 million tons in 1957 to 11.5 million tons in 1967. In the same period U.S. exports have dropped from 5.3 million to 1.7 million tons. He said this has had an adverse affect on the U. S. balance of trade of about $2 billion.

Foreign steel imports through the first four months of 1968 have totaled 4.8 million tons valued at $548 million, he said. He called the continued rise in imports extremely serious.

Ohio Democratic County Leaders Pick Akron Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Akron attorney Robert W. Blakemore was elected president of the Ohio Democratic County Chairmen's Association Tuesday night.

In addition to electing new officers, the association called for liberalization of the state's voter registration procedures.

A resolution, introduced by Stark County Chairman John F. Gwin of Alliance, urged the secretary of state and the legislature "to make more readily available to every eligible citizen the fullest use of the facilities of our election boards, and to extend to every community the availability of door-to-door registration."

Other officers elected were Herbert C. Wolf, Springfield, secretary for a second term; Roger F. DiPaulo, Kent, treasurer, and these four vice presidents, Nelson Humphrey, Ashtabula; Ronald K. Milleson, Freeport, George Twyford, Reynoldsburg, and Robert J. Kuhn, Lima.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Elbow Injury Is Gradual

Little Leaguer's elbow, an injury that has been recognized for many years, is still with us. The onset is gradual. The condition develops only in the throwing arm and so is seen chiefly in pitchers, especially those who are 13 or 14 years old. A separation of a fragment of the cartilage of the elbow or a chip fracture is the underlying cause of the trouble.

Dr. Brandstadt

THE BEST treatment is prevention. This requires making sure that the players report promptly any pain or soreness that develops in an elbow, discouraging pitching practice in boys under 18, discouraging attempts to throw curve balls by boys in this age group, restricting pitchers to two innings per game and shortening the playing season. Any boy who develops a sore elbow should be benched for the rest of that season.

—:—

Q—Our daughter, 2½, gets frequent styes. How can we prevent them? Will she outgrow them?

A—If your daughter rubs her eyes, which is quite likely, she may spread staphylococci from one eye to the other or from her nose to her eyes. Hot applications help to bring a stye to a head, then you should have your doctor lance it and drain it. Yellow oxide of mercury ointment placed on the lids will help to prevent further infection. Washing her hands and face with a soap that contains hexachlorophene will also help. Although styes are common in children they can occur at any age. Your daughter will not outgrow them but you can help her to control them in time.

Q—My daughter, 2½, has a congenital heart defect called coronary artery anomaly. She appears to be healthy and is very active. How serious is this condition.

A—The severity of congenital heart defects varies widely. If a child with an abnormal coronary artery survives her first year of life the chances are that the defect is very mild or that compensation has taken place through other arteries taking over the function of the abnormal one. Since you mentioned no symptoms I assume that the defect was discovered as an incidental finding when she was being examined for some other condition.

Remarks That Irritate Them

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that make people on a diet feel like starting a riot?

"Why go through all that agony of taking it off if you're only going to put it right back on again?"

"What do you mean you've lost 10 pounds already? Where?"

"You're not jogging — you're jiggling."

"The only exercise that will do you any good is to put both hands on the table and push yourself away from it."

"Yep, I can see a big improvement already. You used to look like you had a watermelon under your vest. Now it just looks like you're smuggling a bowling ball."

"Have you tried eating only while under hypnosis? You wake up feeling simply stuffed."

"It took you 40 years to get in that shape, but I think that if you keep working at it you should be able to get back into condition in half that time."

"George, why can't you be philosophic about it? After all, some people are naturally skinny and others were born to look like laundry bags."

"Hi, guy, long time no see. But say, fellow, has anybody told you you've been putting on weight recently?"

"Have you tried the frozen raw mushroom diet? It's filling — as well as chilling."

"They say fat is often a substitute gratification for something else in life you lack. Maybe in your case it's taking the place of sex, money, success, good looks, intelligence and personal charm."

"You used to be so fat and sassy. Now you're just fat."

"I had a dream about you last night, George. The Grand Canyon was filled with gravy, and you were trying to swim across it from rim to rim."

"Have you tried simply to think your excess weight away? Remember the old saying — mind over matter."

"When he used to doodle, he'd draw triangles and squares and circles. Now when he doddles, he just writes down the names of all the kinds of candy bars he ate when he was a kid."

"All I did was ask that fat guy to pass me the sugar, and then he just put his forehead down on the table and began to cry."

"As your doctor, George, I'm quite heartened by your progress —three more ounces off since your last visit. As a reward I think you ought to treat yourself to a soda cracker every Monday from now on."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Trash Basket Kept Clean

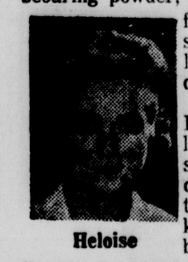
DEAR HELOISE: I find kitchen trash baskets retain odors so I scrub mine with scouring powder, rinse it carefully, and it smells and looks good for quite awhile.



Heloise

However, if I put a thin layer of scouring powder in the bottom of the kitchen wastebasket (since it gets the most abuse), all I have to do is wipe it with a wet paper towel to get it clean. None of the usual hard scouring.

And the minute amount of bleach in the scouring powder acts as a disinfectant.

FAN.

DEAR HELOISE: When putting my sweaters away, I roll them instead of folding. Then store in plastic bags.

They're free of dust and creases when I'm ready to wear them next season.

MRS. JIM McKINLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how I keep all names and telephone numbers of people I call often and also emergency numbers:

I just cut the name and telephone number out of the telephone book with a razor blade and paste them in my little book.

This way I don't have to go through the large phone book to find the numbers when I'm in a hurry.

MRS. K. B. P.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder if you would tell your readers that when they use commemorative stamps on letters to please place it back about ¼" from the corner of the envelope.

Collectors like a little margin of the envelope to remain on the stamp. And this way there is less damage to the stamp when it's removed.

NINA E.

DEAR HELOISE: My two little girls like canned vegetable-beef soup for lunch, but it seems so thin after being diluted.

I finally got the idea to thicken it with some canned peas, corn, or green beans. A different one each time for variety.

It's also a good place to use that dab of leftover vegetables from last night's supper. . .

It makes the soup much tastier and the children like it even more. Also, it's better for them.

BARBARA WARING.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep each child's out-of-season clothes (clean but unironed) in a box on the shelf in his own closet.

I add garments that I may decide to make over for this or a smaller child.

I am usually pretty well set when the next season rolls around without having to search all over the storage area for what I want in an emergency, need to remake or alter when my machine is out.

MRS. MABLE SHEPPARD.

DEAR HELOISE: Being an amateur cook (it's a hobby which has resulted in my doing most of the culinary chores around our house!), I happened to stumble onto a new wrinkle that may be of interest to your female readers.

After frying beef steak or veal, or with the drippings from beef or veal roasts, I use water to make the gravy. For poultry and pork drippings, I use milk, or condensed milk and water.

Depending on how much gravy we want, I pour off part of the grease, pour in the liquid I want to use and then stir in the thickening immediately. Before the liquid has even started to heat. Sure prevents lumpy gravy.

4-H Band Of County To Organize Tonight

LISBON — The Columbiana County 4-H band will hold an organization meeting at 7:30 tonight at the Lisbon Grange hall.

Boys and girls 12 and over with previous band experience are invited, according to Mrs. John Rudebock of Hanoverton, chairman of the 4-H Band committee.

Flood, Navigation Funds Due For Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Tuesday by the Army Engineers to authorize for future construction 30 projects involving flood control and improvements to navigation.

Included are these Ohio projects: Licking River, Utica Reservoir, at an estimated cost of $31,500,000, and Newark, $1,453,000.

Allen County Voters Reject School Levies

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — For the second time, operating levies for two school districts in Allen County were defeated in special elections Tuesday.

Voters in the Bath School District rejected a 3.5 mill levy, and voters in the Spencerville district turned down a 5 mill levy. Both also were defeated in the May primary.

Playgrounds For Midland Open Monday

The lots at Midcrest, 1st St., 4th St., 7th St. and 10th St. have been cleaned and necessary repairs made to the equipment.

Larry Bender, instructor and coach at Lincoln High School, is directing the summer program. Patricia Lento is arts and crafts director. Her assistants will be Mary Ellen Bruno, Barbara Robbertson and Toni Ann Verzella.

The hours will be 10 a.m. until noon, 1 to 3 and 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Activities planned for morning sessions will be for children 4 through 10. Afternoon and evening activities will interest the older group of children, Bender said.

A full schedule of events will be followed each week. Tournaments will begin after July 4. Story-telling sessions will be held at each playground each week.

Junior Editors Quiz on GREAT SEAL

QUESTION: Why does the eagle on the Great Seal of the United States hold both an olive branch and a sheaf of arrows?

ANSWER: Seals have been used since ancient times as a way of authenticating documents. They are made by taking a metal die, in which a design and lettering have been cut, and pressing it into hot sealing wax which has been placed on the document. Sometimes the design is stamped into the paper. The Great Seal of the United States was designed to show the dignity of the new nation as it took its place before the world. The eagle was regarded as a symbol of strength; the escutcheon or shield symbolized America's self-reliance. Olive branches are a symbol of peace. The eagle bears one of these in his right claw, to show that his intentions are friendly to all. But he bears a sheaf of arrows in his left claw to suggest that America can fight if necessary. There are 13 olive leaves and 13 arrows, because there were 13 original states. Our artist has symbolized the meaning of the olive branch and arrows still further by the use of his two figures.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, June 19, the 171st day of 1968. There are 195 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1891, the S.S. Savannah arrived in Liverpool, England, completing the first Atlantic crossing by a steamship.

On this date–

In 1586, the first English settlement in the New World was established by Sir Walter Raleigh on Roanoke Island, N.C.

In 1934, the Federal Communications Commission was created to regular interstate communications by wire and radio.

Five years ago.... President John F. Kennedy asked Congress to enact extensive civil rights legislation to deal with the national crisis in race relations.

One year ago....Soviet Premier Alexi Kosygin demanded that the U.S. General Assembly condemn Israel as an aggressor and require that the Israelis withdraw from conquered Arab territory.

Thought for today: One explanation for the manners of the modern child is that too many woodsheds have been converted into garages– Anonymous.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, June 19, the 171st day of 1968. There are 195 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1891, the S.S. Savannah arrived in Liverpool, England, completing the first Atlantic crossing by a steamship.

On this date–

In 1586, the first English settlement in the New World was established by Sir Walter Raleigh on Roanoke Island, N.C.

In 1934, the Federal Communications Commission was created to regular interstate communications by wire and radio.

Ten years ago ....a new system was announced for Soviet government controls.

Five years ago.... President John F. Kennedy asked Congress to enact extensive civil rights legislation to deal with the national crisis in race relations.

One year ago....Soviet Premier Alexi Kosygin demanded that the U.S. General Assembly condemn Israel as an aggressor and require that the Israelis withdraw from conquered Arab territory.

Thought for today: One explanation for the manners of the modern child is that too many woodsheds have been converted into garages– Anonymous.

Junior Editors Quiz on GREAT SEAL

QUESTION: Why does the eagle on the Great Seal of the United States hold both an olive branch and a sheaf of arrows?

ANSWER: Seals have been used since ancient times as a way of authenticating documents. They are made by taking a metal die, in which a design and lettering have been cut, and pressing it into hot sealing wax which has been placed on the document. Sometimes the design is stamped into the paper. The Great Seal of the United States was designed to show the dignity of the new nation as it took its place before the world. The eagle was regarded as a symbol of strength; the escutcheon or shield symbolized America's self-reliance. Olive branches are a symbol of peace. The eagle bears one of these in his right claw, to show that his intentions are friendly to all. But he bears a sheaf of arrows in his left claw to suggest that America can fight if necessary. There are 13 olive leaves and 13 arrows, because there were 13 original states. Our artist has symbolized the meaning of the olive branch and arrows still further by the use of his two figures.
